BLAIR, INSULL FAIL TO MEET TRACTION BODY

Council Threat to Act on North Shore Line.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The council local transportation committee failed again yesterday to get Samuel Insull of the elevated roads and Henry A. Blair of the Chicago Railways company to discuss the proposed transit ordinance. Leonard A. Busch of the Chicago City Railway company appeared and discussed the measure at length. He objected vigorously to only one fundamental in the measure. He was thanked and complimented.

But upon Patrick J. Lucey, attorney for Mr. Insull, and upon Joseph B. Fleming, attorney for Mr. Blair, the aldermen opened fire. Mr. Insull sent a letter by Mr. Lucey saying that he was interested as a citizen, but "inasmuch as the franchise of the Rapid Transit company are not expiring, I do not think that this is the time for me to discuss the question which immediately confronts the Surface Lines." He added: "I do not wish to discuss a question which primarily concerns another transportation company."

Such buscombe, says Blair.

"He means there is nothing here that interests him," commented Ald. Frankhauser.

"Such buscombe," added Ald. Albert. "Mr. Insull says his franchise is not expiring. One of them never expires. He is running the North Shore electric on the elevated and around the loop without any legal right, in violation of law. I question the truth of his claim that he desires a solution as a private citizen. We can get him in, if we instruct the corporation counsel to ask the executive committee of the Circuit court to take the pending North Shore case away from Judge Denis Sullivan."

Corporation Counsel Busch was asked the status of a temporary injunction issued about two years ago, prohibiting the city from interfering with the operation of the North Shore line. He repeated three times that he had "done everything possible to get a decision." He said it was heard by a master in chancery, who reported last February, and that Judge Sullivan had not been able to hear arguments and give a decision since, because of the latter case.

Lucey Becomes Angry.

Albert caused Lucey to become angry. He said, "The case has not been unduly delayed." He went on: "We asked permission about two years ago to make extensions of the elevated. No consideration was given the subject."

"You presented an ordinance," replied Ald. Mills, "which did not require you to build a single foot of extensions. You only asked the authority to build them without any obligation to actually build. Your ordinance, passed, would have validated every street you have ever made. Mr. Insull said before the committee that he would not build them without a suitable permit."

Then came Mr. Blair's turn. Attorney Fleming said that his client's position was fully set forth in his letter of June 5, which was printed in True News.

Then came much in the line of obstruction and nothing of construction in that letter," commented Corporation Counsel Busch.

"Mr. Blair feels that ordinance discussion is premature," interposed Mr. Fleming. "Your ordinance proposes to create a transit system prohibited under the law. It is to be operated in way prohibited by law and it provides that the control of transit security shall be surrendered forever to the city."

Silly, Says Busch.

"It is silly to get on getting legislation first," retorted Busch. Chairman McDonough then took a turn. He said: "When we went to the last legislature to oppose the Barr bill, Senator Galley of Peoria and others said we did not know what we wanted in transportation. We have been working on the theory that we would agree on an ordinance containing transportation and have the ordinance approved of it. Then we could say to the legislature, this is the ordinance we will re-pass if given the enabling legislation. Mr. Blair is head of the surface lines, an expert and a good financier, but he seems to have no desire to cooperate with us. I suspect he desires to pass the original Barr bill. We will fight him on that. We have worked diligently and faithfully and this committee is willing to do anything within reason to avoid a reversion. I suggest that we appoint a committee of three to request the

SAYS WIFE PREFERS FAIRWAY AND GREEN TO SEWING MACHINE

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—In reply to his wife's separation suit, Nova Adolphus Brown of Westfield, L. I., today filed an affidavit in Brooklyn Supreme court alleging that she was "too busy going after golf championships" to sew buttons on his shirt or to take care of their five year old son, Robert, and a baby girl born last December.

Mrs. Brown, seeking a court order for support and counsel fees pending trial of her action, maintains her husband subjected her to cruel and inhuman treatment, on one occasion breaking a golf stick on her back and at another time a chair.

Mr. Brown alleges that his wife spent much more time on the links of the Wheatley Hills Golf club than he did, and he charges her with being too friendly with other members.

Her charge that he broke a club on her head is denied. He stated, when he found her in the Lido golf club at Long Beach, L. I., with a man named "Potter" and was attacked by Mrs. Brown, when he went to the man. The club she wielded was broken.

Among other complaints in Brown's affidavit was the statement:

"I pleaded in vain for her to sew a button on my shirt. Finally I had to bring the shirt to New York to have a tailor do the job."

Mayor to insist that the traction heads sit in and discuss the subject with us. If they do not want the legislation we have outlined, what legislation do they want? Let us agree upon it. I am referring to both Mr. Blair and Mr. Insull.

"If we don't agree," said Mr. Busby later, "it is nine chances out of ten that we will not get the needed legislation."

Committee Is "Dead Wrong."

Mr. Busby otherwise gave the impression that he believed the committee is working along the right lines. He said he was not a fundamentalist but vigorously opposed city council control of subways, elevated and surface lines. He also questioned whether there can be an effective consolidation without legislation.

Other points, he indicated, could be ironed out in his opinion. He said that the committee "is dead wrong" on the amount of compensation it proposes to collect from the unified system, but thought that the aldermen would change their view on that subject in the interest of the car riders. He suggested an old age and disability fund for employees, which the aldermen had not thought of. He would not stand, however, for "hog tying the management hand and foot by your blessed commission."

Corporation Counsel Busch suggested to the aldermen a means of building a fire under Mr. Blair. He said that the 1907 ordinance provide that after they expire the city can designate any new company to take over the surface lines at the capital account value. He gave the impression that the city can give a franchise to Mr. Busby's company to take over all the property of Mr. Blair's company at the capital account value. Another effort will be made to get Mr. Blair and Mr. Insull before the committee at its next session next Tuesday.

FLOOD SWEEPS ON MEXICO CITY AS STORM RAGES

Valley Towns Under 3
Feet of Water.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Mexico City, July 6.—With the most powerful pumps in the world going night and day in a fight against the elements, more than half of Mexico City already is awash with water. The tempest of wind, rain and hail which has been lashing the valley of Mexico for the last two weeks, continues.

The greater part of the lowlands of the valley of Mexico are flooded—something that has not happened in a quarter century. Only one small tunnel of fourteen miles through the mountain wall of the valley stands between the capital and complete inundation. The engineering corps is watching the entrance of the tunnel to prevent its being blocked by flossam.

Like Vast Island Lake.

From the heights above the town of Tacubaya, south of the capital, the whole valley of Mexico east to the mountains appears to be a great inland lake. Numerous towns and villages of the valley are reported under water. Mexico City is under three feet of water.

Mexico City was under water many times during the Aztec rule, three times during the Spanish régime, and once since then. In the 17th century the inundation of the capital lasted five years, when more than half of the buildings sank into the water.

Only a heavy earthquake, which opened great trenches in the valley and let out the water, saved the capital from being moved bodily to higher land about Chapultepec castle by order of the Spanish government.

Typhus Breaks Out in Leon.

Typhus, deadly disease of the Mexican uplands, has shown its head in the flood stricken city of Leon, state of Guanajuato. Leon has a population of 70,000.

Health Director Gonzalez Martinez of Guanajuato, who reached the capital today, states that scores of small towns and villages are threatened with pestilence.

BIGGEST SNOWSTORM IN 20 YEARS TIES UP CHILE AND ARGENTINA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
SANTIAGO, Chile, July 6.—Chilean and Argentine transportation is held up by the greatest snow storm in twenty years. Hundreds of travelers are detained at Los Andes and Mendoza, while rotary plows are grinding through the mountains. It is estimated that sixty-three tunnels are blocked. The shortage of labor is hindering the work of clearing the way.

It is reported that thirty-seven workers are buried in the Las Condes mines. Eight persons were killed when houses collapsed at Port San Antonio.

More Quakes Predicted.

[Copyright: 1926. By the United News.]
FAENZA, Italy, July 6.—Warning of new earthquakes, a continuation of the present disturbed state through which the earth is passing, is given by Prof. Rafael Bandanti, in an exclusive interview with the United News.

Bandanti, whose successful predictions of past tremors has brought him world fame, predicts that by July 15 earthquakes will have shaken Alaska, southeast Europe and Japan. He also forecasts further shocks in Sumatra.

The quake predicted for the American continent will be strong disturbances, Bandanti believes, but he will not predict whether or not they will do great damage.

ARAB'S BULLET HITS COBHAM AID AND ENDS FLIGHT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
LONDON, July 6.—It is confirmed here tonight that Alan Cobham, famous British long distance flyer, was forced to land on the River Shatt El Arab after a 100 mile race through a sandstorm today when his mechanic, Al Elliott, was shot by a bullet fired from the rifle of an Arab sharpshooter.

The mechanic was operated on at the air force hospital. He will not die, it is reported, but will be weeks recovering from the wound. The bullet hit the fuselage, ricocheted from a feed pipe and struck his arm and then entered his side.

Cobham left England Wednesday on a 26,000 mile flight to Australia and back.

Caillaux Demands Power of Dictator of French Finance

BY HENRY WALES.

[Copyright: 1926. By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, July 6.—Before a jammed and sweltering chamber of deputies in an unventilated, gloomy hall, Finance Minister Joseph Caillaux read his long heralded expose of his country's financial situation today. The finance minister hinted in some cases at what measures are necessary to improve conditions, but to the most important points, including stabilization of the franc, he adopted a wait and see policy, and merely demanded dictatorial powers to decree whatever measures he deems necessary.

The weary chamber adjourned to night to get sleep for tomorrow's battle, when at the night session the government expects to get a vote of confidence on the general outline of its policy and to be given free rein.

As sentiment stands tonight, indicated largely by the cheering for the financial dictator scheme, M. Caillaux should be able to reap about 370 votes against 200, with over 100 abstentions. Detailed financial projects will be proposed on Friday or Saturday and a second vote will be asked, after which the chamber will disperse until October.

Wife Emerges from Retirement.

Mme. Caillaux emerged from her long retirement from public life following her sensational killing of M. Calmette. She sat today in a front box, next to the diplomatic box, surrounded by a bevy of glittering, happy friends. M. Caillaux seemed to be addressing her personally as he adjusted his gold rimmed pince-nez, wiggled his disciplined mustache ferociously in driving home his points.

The Washington accord for the funding of the French war debt to the United States was not mentioned, although M. Caillaux did insist on the necessity of settling foreign debts. The American loan was glossed over with verbiage about the necessity of obtaining external support to stabilize the franc.

M. Caillaux declared the budget was never before balanced, stupifying his audience by saying the 1926 budget showed a 3,000,000,000 franc (about $750,000,000) deficit.

He said the completion of reconstruction of the devastated regions must be covered by a loan which is expected to be in the form of a flotation of German railway bonds, as the Dawes plan provides. He said France must amortize its national debt bonds and raise an additional 3,000,000,000 francs ($750,000,000) through taxation. The country is staggering under an internal debt of 300,000,000,000 francs ($75,000,000,000).

M. Caillaux admitted that the previous government used $50,000,000 of the Morgan loan to obtain francs with which to meet the last series of short term bonds falling due and warned the state that only 500,000,000 francs are left which can be drawn legally from the Bank of France. France's foreign commercial debt amounts to 19,000,000,000 francs ($4,750,000,000).

M. Caillaux voiced a warning that France cannot continue to pay if the franc continues to weaken, and unless the nation gets foreign credits. The finance minister pledged that the government will not settle the foreign political debts—meaning the American and English war debts—without submitting the conventions to a parliamentary vote, and he stated that he expects to obtain "ameliorations and assurances" from Washington and London.

Asks Full Powers.

"We must simplify the taxation system, which is now so interlocked and complicated, that the tax collectors are all mixed up," M. Caillaux asserted. "I ask parliament to delegate me to modify the income tax. We can obtain 2,000,000,000 francs through stricter collections."

"The depreciation of our money is our principal danger. We cannot hope for an integral revalorization of the franc. An essential condition to stabilization is the placing of all the resources of the nation in support of the foreign loan movement. The country must impose upon itself the strictest discipline and a period of restriction is necessary. The government can only apply its program with sufficient rapidity and success if it is not hampered by parliamentary delays. We require delegations of power, and I ask parliament to vote them."

Work on First Library
Under New Law Starts Soon

Work on the first branch library to be built by the library board from a building tax passed by the last state legislature will start Aug. 1, it was announced yesterday. The branch will be located at Crawford avenue and 27th street on a site purchased by the board for $35,000. The two-tenths of a mill on every dollar of assessed valuation for building purposes will create an annual building fund of approximately $350,000.

BUS AND AUTO AID NEW YORKERS IN SUBWAY STRIKE

Tube Service Half Normal
—“L” Men May Join.

New York, July 6.—[Special.]—With the service on one of its main transportation systems reduced to one-half of normal by the strike of the Interborough subway motormen and switchmen, New York City transacted business as usual today.

This was accomplished at the cost of inconvenience and delay to the hundreds of thousands of persons employed in offices, stores, and factories, especially during the rush hours. The emergency service on other transit lines and by buses proved adequate, and some arrangements, such as proposed ferryboat service from 125th street to Cortlandt street and the use of interurban buses were canceled because of lack of passengers.

There was great congestion on some of the other transit lines, but many persons were not more than ten or fifteen minutes late to work.

Passengers Shy of Subway.
The most noticeable thing about the Interborough trains that were moving was lack of passengers. Apparently those who travel customarily by the Interborough subways either feared the inexperience of the strikebreakers running the trains or anticipated delays greater than actually occurred.

Approximately 600 subway motormen and switchmen were on strike, but the walkout failed to extend in any appreciable degree to the Interborough's elevated lines.

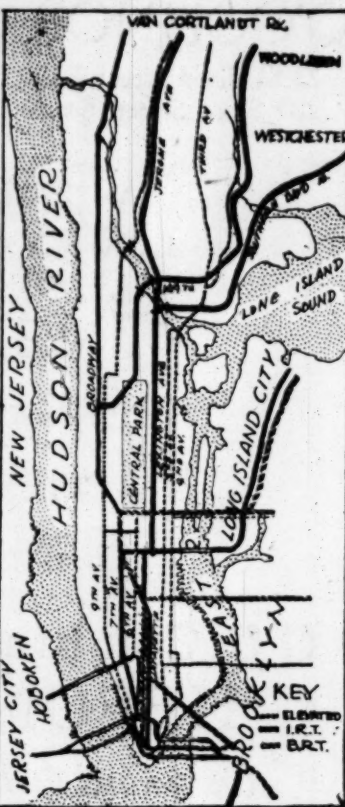

Three cars carrying 155 strikebreakers arrived tonight from Chicago.

In the evening sixty motormen and switchmen employed on the Sixth and Eighth avenue elevated lines marched to a meeting of striking subway men with the intention of joining the strikers. There are 241 motormen and switchmen on the lines.

The number of motormen and switchmen on the Second and Third avenue elevated lines, as yet unaffected, is 360.

The traction commission launched a

Lilliputs Bind Giant

New York is handicapped but not yet crippled by the subway strike. The map shows the city's transportation lines. The subway—indicated by solid black lines—are operating fifty per cent normal. The elevated—with dotted lines—are little hurt yet, although some men on the 6th and 8th lines are out. The Brooklyn Rapid Transit is not hit yet.

mediation move, but it was opposed by President Hedley of the Interborough.

Word came from him that if the company recognized the "outlaw" union which ordered the strike despite an anti-strike agreement still in effect, the bona fide unions representing all branches of subway workers would have reason themselves to walk out.

The city was prepared to use more substitute means of transportation than was found necessary.

The B. M. T. operated surface cars, subway lines and elevated roads at a maximum to meet the abnormal flow of traffic. The city sent out hundreds of buses to meet the situation and increased its ferry service. The New York Central and the New York, Boston and Westchester railroads operated a larger number of trains than usual to assist in handling the crowds.

Buses did a big business taking the theater crowds home tonight. Meanwhile, the traffic police have adopted drastic regulations, prohibiting parking in downtown New York in order to keep the streets clear.

While I. R. T. stock prices on the exchange were going up three points on the strength of the rumor that the strike would be used to help put over a fare increase beyond the present 5 cent, Leader George W. Olvany of Tammany Hall discounted any such prospect.

Indianapolis Little Put Out.
Indianapolis, Ind., July 6.—[AP.]—The strike called yesterday of street railway employees continued today but apparently inconvenienced the public only slightly. Union leaders insisted half the company's force had failed to report, but the traction company said that during this evening's rush hour only thirty fewer cars than usual were in operation. Company officials may charge violation of a federal injunction issued Saturday. There has been no violence.

PUBLISHER UDELL PINCHES FIGHTER AND IS PINCHED

Paul L. Udell, Highland Park publisher, argued so strenuously yesterday for his rights as a special policeman that a regular cop arrested him on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Two youths of the village were fighting on the street when Udell interfered. He took one of them into custody. Then arrived Policeman Roland Deming, who is paid to act as a keeper of the peace. He decided to take both youths to the police station—and he did.

Udell, following, demanded of Desk Sergeant William Flynn that the boys be released, insisting that his prior arrest gave him the privilege of disposing of the case. Just to prove that special police are not the equal of regular police, Sergt. Flynn booked him and released him on bonds of $25.

EX-KAISER BIDS FOR SETTLING OF PRINCES' CLAIMS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
BERLIN, July 6.—The former Kaiser William has broken his silence on the property claims of the Hohenzollerns through the mouth of Herr von Berg, "legal emissary of the former Prussian royal house."

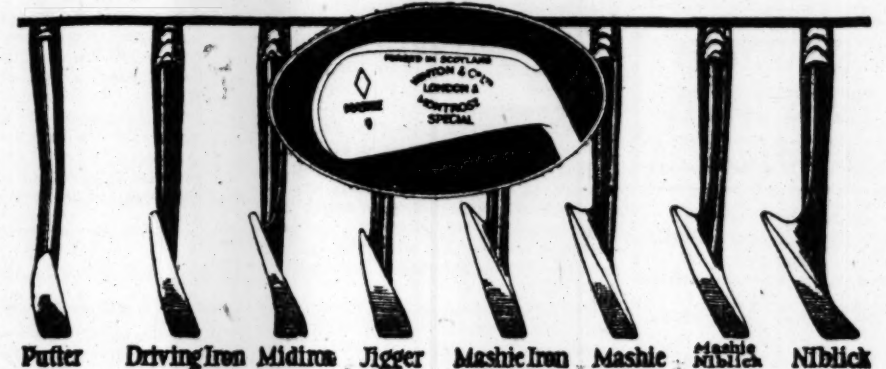

In a letter to the Prussian government, Herr von Berg says that he is taking the initiative "in finally getting rid of the subject of unrest in our public life." He says he is ready to resume negotiations on the question of the former rulers' property on the basis of the agreement reached with Prussia in October.

The ex-kaiser seeks to come to favorable terms with the republic before the reichstag's next session, when it might adopt a bill settling the former rulers' claims in more drastic fashion. In the recent referendum 14,500,000 Germans voted for confiscation of the property of the Hohenzollerns.

CONFESS BALLOT GRAB IN ANOTHER WARD—THE 13TH

Grand Jury Hears Voting Officials Admit Fraud.

That other wards than the notorious 12th were sold out to selected candidates in the April primary became known yesterday when clerks and judges from the 13th precinct of the 13th ward admitted before the new special vote fraud grand jury that under orders they had delivered all the votes in the precinct to certain candidates.

The grand jury, led by Special State's Attorney Charles A. McDonald, also began an inquiry into conditions in the 20th ward, where Morris Eller, sanitary trustee, is the leading politician, and where sensational charges of fraud have been brought.

Resumes Recount Today. Meanwhile County Judge Edmund K. Jurecki today will resume the recount of votes in behalf of defeated candidates from the Deneen-Lundin faction who have charged their downfall in the primary to vote fraud. Thirteen precincts are to be counted in the 13th ward, which will complete the recount of the ward, and reveal the extent of the alleged fraud there. Confessions that they had followed orders in giving the full 290 votes in their precinct to certain candidates were obtained from the judges and clerks in the 13th ward precinct, it was reported from the grand jury room.

The witnesses summoned are Edward Fatima, 4613 South Laffin street, Republican; Michael Foley, 4628 South Marshfield avenue, Democratic; William F. Kossnar, 4623 South Marshfield avenue, Democratic; Frank Kuruz, 4628 South Bishop street, Republican clerk, and Charles W. Stalinski, 4654 Gross avenue, Democratic clerk.

None Names Higher Up. While all were reported agreed that they had been ordered to give the votes to the favored candidates, there was none who could or would name the higher up who gave the orders, it was learned.

Examination of the official count in the precinct, as compared with the recount, reveals that candidates from with the Deneen-Lundin and the Crowe-Barrett factions benefited by the vote bribery.

In the race for municipal judgeships, 29 votes were given by the precinct officials to seven Deneen-Lundin candidates, two Crowe-Barrett men, and three independents. For county commissioner, three Deneen-Lundin candidates, five Crowe-Barrett, and one independent each received the 290 votes. The recount reduced the totals for all these candidates, and gave sizable returns for others in the race.

Judge Daniel P. Trude, D.L. candidate for county judge, was given 230 votes by the precinct officials, but only 127 ballots were found marked for him. Joseph F. Savage, C.B., the nominee, will have ballots marked for him, but clerks and judges gave him only 60.

EIGHT CICERO ELECTION FRAUD CASES DROPPED

The state's attorney's office yesterday practically dropped prosecution against John and Harry Madigan, Cicero saloonkeepers, and Hugh McGovern and John O'Brien, who were alleged to have been members of a gang which, during a primary in Cicero two years ago, kidnapped precinct workers and officials.

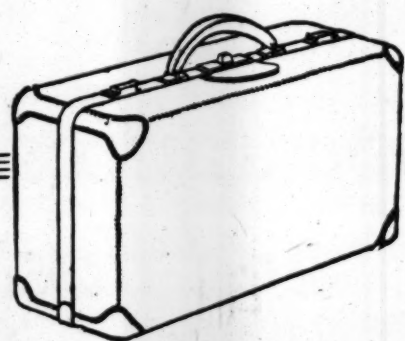

The defendants were acquitted on one of ten charges pending against them by a jury in Judge Emanuel Eller's court last week, and yesterday Assistant State's Attorney Justin McCarthy ordered eight of the remaining cases stricken off with leave to reinstate. The other case was continued until Sept. 14.

The prosecutor explained to the judge that in the cases stricken off his evidence was not sufficient to warrant a conviction and that in the other indictment, in which Stanley Stankovich is the prosecuting witness, only O'Brien can be identified.

CROWE ATTACKS SPEED TRAPPERS ON COUNTY ROADS

Calls In Village Chiefs with Arrest Records.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Eight of the thirteen automobile speed traps which lie like feudal strongholds on the main highways entering Chicago were struck last night in the first action of a grand jury investigation ordered by State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.

The prosecutor declared that he intends to continue a clean out of highway graft, extortion, false arrest and official brutality until Cook county is made safe for motorists. He issued subpoenas duces tecum for police chiefs and all records of arrests of motorists in the following villages:

BROADVIEW, little village that commands several miles of Roosevelt road west of Maywood, and Chief Joe Huszar, alias "Mexican Joe," whose activities as motorcycle officer have brought hundreds of protests.

RIVER FOREST, western suburb through which tourists and Chicago motorists must pass in seeking the open roads to the northwest, and Chief Atkinson.

WORTH, commanding a portion of the popular 111th street highway southwest of Chicago, and Chief Dan Crandall.

SPECIALVILLE, village to the south which commands traffic in the heavily used Western avenue road, and Chief O'Connor.

MARKHAM, new subdivision lying along Western avenue and the South Park avenue road, and H. J. Morley of the village force.

MOUNT GREENWOOD, another village lying along the 111th street road, and Chief John Rhahe.

NILES, the thriving village which commands the congested intersections of the Milwaukee avenue and Waukegan road highways northwest of Chicago, and Chief Peter Czakowski.

EVERGREEN PARK, another village to the south that lives along the 91st street highway at its intersection with Western avenue.

Orders issued to detective sergeants of the state's attorney's force by William Steinberg, assistant state's attorney in charge of complaints, directed the appearance of all of those village chiefs at the Criminal courts building by 2 p. m. today.

J. N. Braun, general counsel for the Chicago Motor club, declared yesterday that the club's big budget of speed trap evidence is ready for the use of State's Attorney Crowe and the grand jury.

"Decent, law abiding motorists," Mr. Steinberg declared, "cannot start on a Sunday drive with their families these days and expect to get back home again without running into the highway extortion or some angle of the speed trap racket."

400,000 SIGNERS CALL FOR VOTE ON VOLSTEADISM

Brennan Going Downstate
—Col. Smith Recovers.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Signatures to George E. Brennan's petition for a Volstead referendum in Illinois next November reached the 400,000 mark yesterday. This was announced at Democratic headquarters, where the petitions are being prepared for filing with Secretary of State Emmerson on Sept. 1.

Frank L. Smith Well Again.

Meantime, while Mr. Brennan's manager, E. J. Kelly, was making plans to send the Democratic senate nominee to Danville and other downstate points next week for a bit of midsummer campaigning, Frank L. Smith, Republican nominee, left Hennrich hospital, where he underwent a gall bladder and appendicitis operation four weeks ago. Col. Smith went immediately to his home at Dwight, where he expects to remain several weeks recuperating.

Col. Smith was not permitted to read any newspapers during his illness, Mrs. Smith said.

Temperance League Active.

The Liberal Temperance league, which has opened headquarters at 105 North Clark street, yesterday issued its first regular monthly bulletin, "The Liberty Bell." Its opening statement contains such sentences as these: "Today the Liberty Bell rings again in defiance and in warning to an unrepresentative congress. We are tearing the mask from congressmen who make secret pledges to the Anti-Saloon league. We are demanding an open pledge to the people."

In an article on the Illinois campaign "The Liberty Bell" says: "The Illinois senatorial election in November will attract the attention of all the voters in America."

"George E. Brennan, the Democratic leader, is seeking to make his candidacy a vote upon the modification issue. Col. Frank L. Smith, the Republican nominee, took no stand on this vital issue in the primary campaign but the Liberal Temperance league will demand a statement from him."

Declare for Referendum.

Several congressional candidates including M. C. Walsh (Dem., Second), State Senator E. J. Glacken (Dem., Third), Congressman John J. Gorman (Rep.), and James T. Igoe (Dem.), in the Sixth, Congressman Stanley H. Kunz (Dem., Eighth), Edward J. O'Brien (Dem., Eleventh), and John A. Ascher (Dem., Thirteenth), declared for modification in their replies for modification in their replies. Former Gov. Richard Yates, Republican congressman at large, maintained his stand as a dry.

regular budget, for an active campaign in those states where Volstead modification referendums are to be held or where the wet and dry issue is uppermost in congressional elections this fall.

"That will be a pretty thin veneer after you get it spread out over all the states where senators and congressmen are to be elected," observed Senator McNary.

"It will be a thin veneer," agreed Mr. Stayton, "but it will enable us to spread the information as to how the Volstead law has turned out in practice. It is almost wholly a matter of education, and we believe that with $300,000 ready money which we ultimately will raise we can get along."

Asked About Activities.

"You are not going to limit the activities of your organization to the primaries, are you?" asked Senator McNary.

"O. no," answered Mr. Stayton, "but if in the primaries both of the candidates who are nominated are dry,

REED INSISTS THAT ALL DRY LEAGUE FIGURES BE BARED

St. Louis, Mo., July 6.—[United News]—Until the officers of the Anti-Saloon league are able to prove that the league is a nonpolitical organization, the public is entitled to all facts concerning its organization, Senator "Jim" Reed, chairman of the senate primary investigating committee believes.

Commenting on the action of the committee in withholding figures on Anti-Saloon league contributions, Reed said:

"I left my vote to be cast on this question and it certainly was not for suppression of the contribution figures."

"The officers of the Anti-Saloon league have constantly asserted it to be an organization in the service of God and for the rescue of humanity," Reed said. "Why should any man protest against having the world know he has contributed to a cause which he declares is so sacred?"

Why, then we might as well save our money in that state."

"I do not expect to see you in Oregon, then," laughed Senator McNary. "No, you will not, I fear," responded Mr. Stayton.

"Do you expect to go into Pennsylvania?" asked Senator Goff.

"If things go on as they are now, I should say, probably not. We think we could save our money."

"You think it would be an act of riotous living to go into Pennsylvania now?" continued Senator Goff.

"I do, sir," answered Mr. Stayton.

Argue over Volsteadism.

Senator Goff and Mr. Stayton engaged in an argument when the former asked: "Who wants the Volstead act modified?"

"I do, for one," answered Stayton quickly. "When I went into this work, I was a total abstainer. I had no thought of wanting to drink or ever taking a drink in my life; and I felt that the constitution of the United States had been betrayed at the hands of its friends, and I shall oppose this law as long as I live."

"There have been a great many people who thought the constitution of the United States had been betrayed," declared Senator Goff, "and that democracy as a form of government had been betrayed; but the constitution of the United States stands today and embodies in it the democracy of the ages, which has wrapped up in it all of the wisdom and all of the morality and all of the religion of two thousand of years that preceded its adoption."

"It did stand that way a few years ago," retorted Stayton, "but now it has a hideous wart on its nose."

JUSTICE LINDSAY ON CRIME.

Mr. Chief Justice Lindsay of the Criminal court has expressed some views upon crime conditions in Chicago which deserve serious attention. His opinion is, first, that matters are not as bad as they seem, and, second, that they could be bettered by confining the prosecution of minor crimes to the Municipal court and by retaining judges for at least two years on the Criminal bench.

Matters seem worse than they are, Judge Lindsay thinks, because many offenses not formerly considered criminal are now crimes in law. The result has been an overloading of the Criminal courts and a division of police energies between the running down of such offenses and of more serious crimes. "When legislatures invade the field of personal tastes, habits, and conduct in order to declare acts or omissions to be of a criminal character they merely increase the burden placed upon the police, whose duty it is to apprehend criminals and carry on prosecutions, as well as to congest the calendars of the various courts before which cases must be tried."

This is not new comment but it is corroboration by an expert observer dealing daily with the predicament with which law enforcement is struggling vainly. There are, of course, social causes of criminality, such as the rapid growth of great cities, the loss for large numbers of their population of the restraints of the old fashioned home and community, the weakening of religious faith, the appearance of new temptations and opportunities, etc. But it is foolish to lose ourselves among these general influences to the neglect of practical measures which will put an immediate check upon crime. Perhaps it is impossible to restrain the passion of our professional reformers and their unthinking followers for imposing upon government the innumerable tasks of private discipline or to restrain our host of legislators from letting loose upon us their flood of regulations. But we can call attention persistently to the consequences of this tendency and we can insist upon some of the concrete amendments of our administration of the law such as Judge Lindsay and other students of administrative reform seem to be agreed upon.

We would note in this connection the letter of Associate Justice O'Connor of the Appellate court, published in the Voice of the People Monday. Justice O'Connor protests against Judge Kavanaugh's assertion that the lawyers will not reform the criminal laws. Well, all we have to say on that point is that we think the initiative belongs to them and that we know of no laymen who are preventing them. We have read of law reform for many years and seen little of it. We think when Judge Kavanaugh points out that the lawyers are in a place of dominant influence in virtually all of our legislative bodies he is easily within the facts, and we will add that the press and civic associations are and always have been ready to support any reform in the machinery of judicial administration which the legal profession, including the judiciary, will seriously propose. There is a wide consensus that reforms are needed. Justice O'Connor says the lawyers are not obstructionists. We only have to say, then, let us have the reforms.

ONE OF THE WEST'S SPECIAL INTERESTS.

The Democratic press of the east is fanning its partisan hopes in the winds of discontent raised in the west by the failure of congress to pass legislation wanted by representative farmers' organizations. It is hoped the farmers are mad enough to overlook the fact that this press has been unanimously hostile to such legislation and will respond to its invitation to seek redress on Democratic lines. That is, it is now naively proposed that the farmers shall help turn over the government to their good friends the Democrats, who have just helped to beat western legislation, and try an experiment in Democratic tariff reduction.

The farmers are mad, but we doubt they will walk into that trap, apropos of which we offer a specimen of Democratic policy in the New York World's remarks on "Cuba and the Sacred Sugar Beet." The World is deeply concerned for the welfare of "millions of American consumers," and alleges that the sugar beet is a special interest which has a business and voting residence in Utah and is the beneficiary of Senator Smoot's barfaced political manipulation. It admires the pleading of President Menocal of Cuba, who wants to give these millions of American consumers cheap Cuban cane sugar, and declares that since the United States cannot produce its own sugar and never will do it, it is only common sense to let in the Cuban export and let the sugar beet take care of itself.

If the western farmer is allured by this reasoning to follow Democratic leadership to his logical conclusion in a general leveling of tariff protection for American production, he will look back at his present troubles with a sharp regret. The west is conscious of inequities in national policy, but it has thrived and is thriving under that policy. Its prosperity is broad, continuous, and substantial, and what it wants is an adjustment of conditions, not a destruction of the bulwark behind which it, as well as the whole country, has achieved and maintains that prosperity.

The east would like to sell machinery to refine the cane of Cuba and the humble beet grower of Colorado, and Utah, and Michigan is of small voting weight. Perhaps he will never be able to supply all the sugar we consume, but all the experts tell us that only a few years hence our farms will not be able to supply all the cereals we consume. Then, in the name of millions of consumers, we suppose it will be the same common sense to which the World and President Menocal appeal to let down the barriers around the wheat growers' special interest.

The farmer is mad, but not blind mad yet.

NEW YORK'S 700.

New York is going through a strike of subway motormen and switchmen. Only 700 or so workers have taken part in the walkout, but they have succeeded in affecting seriously the daily transportation of 3,000,000 people. Probably in no other city but New York could the strike of so few inconvenience so many. The subways—the great tubes that run the length of Manhattan, with branches to the various boroughs—make New York possible. Tie them up, and one ligitates the city's principal arteries.

Transportation strikes have hit Chicago and the city has lived through them with a minimum of inconvenience. Far from adequate as Chicago's street system is, it has taken only a strike or two to demonstrate how marvelous are its possibilities. Makeshift methods of transportation by automobile and truck can fairly easily carry the daily load. The arteries of normal supply may be blocked, but a great network of lesser channels are capable of handling the traffic stream.

Chicago, lying roughly in a semicircle on the lake shore, was built up on the principle of land travel. The lake, undoubtedly because of the likelihood of rough weather, was never seriously considered as an avenue of north and south travel. Nor has the river ever been more than a freight route. New York, on the other hand, was laid out with the idea of water travel definitely in mind. Fulton's adventures with the steamboat were a matter of fresh interest. What more natural than that the city on a narrow island should expect this new means of travel—its possibilities for mass transportation appearing so superior to those of street or highway—to care for the future demand for conveyance north and south?

The result is the New York of today. Chicago's traffic may travel over a thousand routes. New York is confined to a few pinched roadways above ground, while the great mass of it jams its way through the roaring tubes of the subway. Mr. Fulton's invention did not fulfill its expected purpose, and seven hundred men are able to tie up a city of seven million. We wonder what New York's solution of its future traffic problems will be. Will they turn to boats after all? Will they build north and south streets? Or will they bore other tunnels up and down, through the rocky foundation of Manhattan?

MORE EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

Our present governor's abuse of the pardoning power is one of the black chapters in the records of misgovernment in Illinois. Its latest instance seems to reveal the same callous indifference to the claims of justice and even common decency that has characterized its forerunners.

Ignatius Potz, one of three bootleg runners, was convicted by a jury in Lake county of murdering the ex-soldier and motorcycle policeman, William Pederson, when he tried to arrest him. The sentence was for the extreme penalty and the Supreme court affirmed it.

Gov. Small's first act of clemency was a commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment, which was not justified by the disclosure of mitigating evidence unknown to the court or jury, but by a characteristic effort to associate it with Mr. Small's personal benevolence.

That was in 1922, soon after the trial of Small at Waukegan and his acquittal by a jury which later received peculiar proofs of Mr. Small's gratitude. We now have another commutation which, if legal, will end Potz's term in 1930 and perhaps permit of his release on parole at once.

State's Attorney Smith, who tried the case against Potz, has some remarks which are worth consideration by the people of a state suffering grievously from rampant crime. He says: "Potz was a cold blooded murderer. He and two others were running booze and Potz killed the policeman to avoid arrest. He had a fair trial and was condemned by a jury. The state Supreme court sustained the verdict. Potz and his associates were friendly to State Representative Thomas Curran. Of course, I do not know if Representative Curran aided Potz, but I will try to find out."

The Potz affair certainly calls loudly for investigation. If it is another of the sinister ramifications of the Small acquittal at Waukegan, it is even worse than it appears on the surface, and the surface is bad enough. The latest jail delivery shows the demoralization which prevails in our criminal and penal affairs at this time. The two convicts in for ten years to life for highway robbery, escaped in circumstances that points as plainly as could be asked to corrupt connivance.

Editorial of the Day

INTERSTATE CRIME.

[Los Angeles Times.]

Drafted by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, published in a city in which crime has been rampant of late, a proposed measure is pending congress known as the Yates-Cummins interstate stolen property bill. Just as legitimate business is organized to reach out over a greater and greater radius, so is crime organized to reach out from state to state.

What is true of the operations of interstate criminals in the east and midwest in this respect is true of the Pacific coast. Crime has become an interstate business and would seem to require interstate measures to regulate it. The proposed Yates-Cummins act merely broadens the powers given the federal authorities by the Dyer act to include all classes of stolen property transported from state to state. Because of extradition difficulties, including vexatious delays, no state has been able fully to cope with the increased traffic in stolen goods, which in late years has been enormous.

The interstate commerce committee of the senate has approved the new bill and it stands a fair chance of passage. There is a popular clamor against the making of trivial and useless laws, but in the view of discerning people the proposed interstate stolen property act is not one of them. If adopted it would serve a good purpose, as it would make interstate robbery less easy and justice in such cases more swift and sure.

GOOD IN VACCINATION.

THE report of the central health bureau, which is fostered by the International Red Cross, indicates that the United States has more smallpox than any other known country in the world. It is certain that we have more than any country in Europe, but when it comes to the countries lying on the fringes of civilization, reports are so incomplete that the record may not be reliable.

The reason for the undue prevalence of smallpox in the United States is that among all the peoples who travel about much we are the least vaccinated. In order that a nation shall be safe from smallpox, it is necessary that it must go hand in hand with increasing roads and automobiles. We have the automobiles and the railroads, but Germany, France, England and other countries in our class have the vaccination. Therefore, we must take smallpox in order to balance the account. This philosophizing grew out of my experience when crossing into Mexico two weeks ago.

The Mexican immigration authorities are very strict about vaccination. They let no one come into their country without a certificate of vaccination. Some physician known to the immigration official. If there is any doubt about the certificate, the official examines the vaccination scar, and has a fresh vaccination done if he thinks there is need for it.

State and municipal officials in the border states see that their people are vaccinated. The government requires that all large industries see to it that all their employees are vaccinated. Industrial concerns that employ an unvaccinated man are liable to a heavy fine. The employees show an eager willingness to have their families vaccinated. I saw the dispensary waiting room belonging to a large industrial concern, crowded with women and children awaiting their turns to be vaccinated.

It is said that Mexican mothers once purposely exposed their children to smallpox because they thought the disease inevitable, and the earlier in life a child had it, the less the danger. Such

WANTS CITIZENSHIP.

Chicago, June 30.—[Friend of the People.] My father was born in Sweden, but came to this country when I was a year old. I have lived here ever since. Recently I married a United States citizen, who was never naturalized, says that I am not a United States citizen, but my husband says that I will have to be naturalized if I want to become one. I should like to know whether or not I am a citizen, because I am not I want to become one. S. C.

You are not a United States citizen. A law which went into effect, September 22, 1922, provided that alien women marrying United States citizens on or after that date would not gain United States citizenship by such marriage. If you wish to become a citizen, call at the naturalization office, 776 "Redwood" Chicago, for instructions on how to proceed.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 7, 1861.
WASHINGTON.—There is the greatest activity among military men, and especially among the Illinois National Guard. Private George Stow, Co. K of Chicago, was drowned while bathing in a swimming pool back of the camp.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill.—Three thousand residents of Bloomington indulged in the annual fishing festival at Lake Miller, a three acre body of water in which no fishing is allowed the rest of the year. Chicagoans may take a day off for the Derby. Evanston may stop work to leave eggs at the Lewistown, Galena may make a festival of Grant's birthday. London may declare a holiday in honor of the anniversary of the death of Queen Victoria. Bayreuth may give everything up to Wagner. Oberammergau may build its entire around the Passion play, but Bloomington goes in for fishing, and it was an odd sight to see a fisherman cast into the pond all day.

LONDON.—The British army of 200,000 men is still waiting and watching for a force of Boers ranging from 2,000 to 10,000 men. Gradually the guerrilla forces of the Boers are being picked up, a few at a time, and Lord Kitchener is not asking for more troops.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 7, 1916.
WASHINGTON.—President Wilson took two steps to forestall criticism of retention of the militia at the Mexican border doing patrol duty of regular troops. The movement in congress for the recall of the guardsmen and the substitution thereof of regulars resulted in Secretary of War Baker in a letter to the President recommending that the guardsmen be discharged from service and guardsmen with dependent families. Subsequently the war department called out the regular army reserves to fill the gaps caused by the discharge of the militiamen.

WASHINGTON.—The de facto government of Mexico was informally notified through Enriquez Arredondo, ambassador designate, that the United States welcomed Gen. Carranza's proposal to adjust all pending differences between the two governments by direct diplomatic negotiations.

LONDON.—A royal decree announced the appointment of David Lloyd George as Great Britain's secretary of war to succeed the late Lord Kitchener. Viscount Curzon, who almost the entire Somme line were repulsed by the British and French armies. However, none of the official statements claim any advantages gained and the situation is regarded as a full before the storm which is to come with the next stage of the big battle.

CHICAGO.—Ferdinand Bruno Stein, 62, founder for Ferdinand Stein, the prima donna, and champagne were given by Mrs. Charlotte Steindel, violinist, in Judge Kersten's court for the contributing cause which led her to the divorce proceedings against the pianist.

CHICAGO.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burrage Farwell, 1313 Madison Park, announced the marriage of their daughter, Florence, to Myron S. Strong of Burlington, Mich.

MARGINAL NOTES.

VII.

It may be that I shall see not ever again such a foreboding flatness of gray dead waters as one time clung around Hatteras, Cape of Storms. Scarce ever a clamor from a bell buoy, so little life was in that sea. Not a hint of white surf was there against the smudged background of low Carolina coast. Lazy, circling ripples rolled impotently from our bow and spread until lost in the distance.

Thus then may the breeding ground of tempests at times appear, as if they, too, might settle sometimes away from the seriousness of their appointed tasks. And man might well remember that the great flurry and commotion which he makes over the business of living shall tomorrow have not the power to move one grain of sand by the sea. Dreams alone have the power of bridging the gaps between the jerks of time and its baleful and remarkable creatures of man's imagination, come trooping to survival out of limbo across that bridge. Let us cultivate the catobleps which shall quite unremarkably outlive any creature of fact.

HOLD FAST TO DECATUR.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 5.—Congratulations on your steadfast and undaunted repulse of this further assault on loyalty, than which there is no principle of life more essential to the maintenance and perpetuity of our cherished institutions—religious, governmental, social, family—congratulations being especially in order because of your unflinching stand against attack from a source so insidious. If I find that my wife, through instance of unfortunate conduct on her part that in itself I could not approve, has provoked an assault on her from a neighbor, am I to defer defense of her until I determine if she is in the right, or withhold defense if she proves to be wrong? By being loyal to my family at all hazards, I am a better neighbor, and, by being loyal to my own country in all crises, I am a better citizen, not of my country only, but of the world. True patriots of America are the truest and best friends of all other peoples, and I am certain that all such patriots earnestly implore you to hold fast to the toast of Stephen Decatur.

W. B. PIATT.

SCURZ'S WORDS AN EVASION.

Chicago, July 4.—The Schurz sentiment means exactly the same thing that Decatur's does but is cleverly worded, probably in order to be "different," or a convey to the thoughtless a somewhat different impression. The difference between the two statements is that the Decatur sentiment emphasizes the idea of loyalty above all else by referring to it in the last words. But the Schurz statement makes only a perfunctory mention of it and lays special emphasis upon personal conviction.

To a thinking person the words "right" and "wrong" convey no meaning whatever. To the thoughtless they mean everything. Each individual tries, at least, to think himself right and to more another tries to argue him out of his idea the more thoroughly convinced of his own righteousness he becomes.

During the late war every sympathizer with Germany, England, France, Italy and other nations had a different idea of what was the right thing for this nation to do. Differences between nations are unavoidable. But it is far better to me them with the frank statement of Decatur than the evasion of Schurz.

H. C. HORSTMANN.

CONFIRMS HIS DOUBT.

Chicago, July 4.—Mr. Moore's letter and enclosures in today's TRIBUNE and our editorial "Decatur's Toast and Schurz," have strengthened the doubt I have had as to the wisdom of daily quoting Decatur's sentiment as a complete abstract statement of American patriotism.

The attitude of Charles Sumner in the debate in the United States senate on his resolution offered Feb. 12, 1872, for a select committee to investigate the sales of ordnance stores made by the government during the Franco-German war is also worthy of consideration.

Both Sumner and Schurz were charged with lack of patriotism, etc. In closing the debate Sumner said:

"The objection of senators is too much like the old heathen cry, 'Our country, right or wrong.' Unhappy words, which detract from God and exalt the devil! I am for our country with the conviction that it may be always right; but I am for nothing wrong. When I hear of wrong, I insist at all hazards that it shall be made right, knowing that in this way I best serve my country and every just cause."

DAWES HAS JUST BEGUN TO FIGHT SENATE RULES

Has New Ammunition to Fire on Stump.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., July 6.—(Special.)—Any one who thinks that Vice President Dawes has quit the fight he started last inauguration day for reform of the senate rules is reckoning without the general, it transpired today.

The Vice President is just getting his second wind in that contest, it appears. He is getting ready to take the stump this summer from coast to coast on the rules reform issue. That's the way he intends to spend his vacation.

Knows About It Now.

The fact is that not till he became Vice President and began presiding over the senate did the general really become acquainted with the senate rules. His explosion on the subject when he was inducted into office was based purely on hearsay testimony. But now he is competent to testify personally to the manner in which unlimited debate, filibusters, unanimous consent, senatorial courtesy and other practices, customs, privileges and traditions in the senate impede the transaction of business, promote pork barrel raids on the treasury, and flout the will of the people.

Day after day he has sat in the presiding officer's chair for two sessions of the senate watching the operation of the rules and observing the manipulations of legislation under cover of antiquated methods of procedure. As a business man he has felt his blood boiling at the spectacle of the waste of millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money by the lack of system and expedition in the transaction of the public business. He is now able to cite specific incidents of these sessions illustrating concretely and graphically the need of reform of the senate rules.

Can Name Names.

He has seen the seamy side of legislation, knows how this and that bill has been put through or killed by this and that deal in the cloak rooms or in whispered understandings on the floor. And he can name names in this connection if he cares to.

WILLIAMS SUCCEEDS COOPER AS HEAD OF FARM LOAN BUREAU

Washington, D. C., July 6.—(AP)—Robert A. Cooper of South Carolina has resigned as head of the farm loan bureau, and Albert C. Williams of Texas has been named to succeed him. Mr. Cooper will remain as a member of the farm loan board. Mr. Williams also is a member of the board.

His health was assigned by Mr. Cooper for his resignation. He is understood to have had differences of opinion with Secretary Mellon over policies, but he said today there was no outstanding dispute between them. Both Mr. Cooper and Mr. Williams are Democrats.

Vice President Dawes is more positive than ever that majority cloture is needed in the senate. How a filibuster operates he was able to observe in the closing hours of the session last Saturday when Senator Cameron (Rep., Ariz.) held the floor, killing time by reading reports, to the exclusion of all business. Even if the application of majority cloture were to be limited to revenue and appropriation bills, the Vice President would think it a good beginning.

Expects Other Examples.

During the session of congress which begins next December the Vice President expects there will be still other examples of what may be done in way of preventing legislation. Under the present rules debate can be closed by a two-thirds vote. But frequently it is not possible to obtain a two-thirds vote. Only twice has the two-thirds cloture been invoked, once on the Versailles peace treaty, which was defeated, and during the present session on the world court resolution, which was agreed to.

Used as a Club.

The power of holding up appropriation and revenue bills is now used frequently to bring legislative concessions from the majority. Such a rule as proposed would destroy the power of individuals and minorities to force the President to call extra sessions of congress, as has happened in the past, because some of the general appropriations have failed to pass before adjournment.

Even if such a rule be adopted, there would still remain unlimited debate on all other legislative measures and upon treaties.

Opposition to majority cloture has come particularly from the southern senators, who fear that such a rule might be invoked to force laws on the south which they do not favor.

WANT "MEXICO FOR MEXICANS," OFFICIAL SAYS

Saenz, Calles' Aid, Talks
at the U. of C.

Foreigners in Mexico seek money greedily; hold it desperately, and have a strong contempt for Mexicans and their customs, according to Moises Saenz, subsecretary of education for the southern republic.

Speaking yesterday at a meeting of the institute of politics at the University of Chicago, he declared that his country had at last determined that other governments would have to recognize it as a foreign state.

"Mexico for Mexicans," "Our nationalistic policy is simply trying to correct a misplaced emphasis," he said. "We are satisfied no longer with Mexico being the mother to the foreigner and stepmother to the native."

"Mexico," he continued, "needs development, and nobody realizes it more than we do ourselves. The eternal comparison with American development makes us even pessimistic. Sometimes Mexico needs a dash of foreign enterprise and physical activity, and I believe amicable agreements for the native and the outsider can be reached."

Mexico Moving Slowly.
"In Mexico we are a bit slow. Ours is not a policy of exclusion. We appreciate the foreigner; we admire his tireless energy. When he does not step too hard on our national toes we welcome him. We believe our country has natural resources enough for the Mexicans and many foreigners."

Mr. Saenz asserted that more than $2,000,000,000 of outside capital had been invested in his country, with American business furnishing most of it.

"The United States therefore has a problem and an opportunity," he averred. "Envisage the problem by considering the position of Mexico in the Caribbean and the tightening grasp of the so-called American imperialistic policy all around it."

Raps "Dollar Diplomacy."
"How far and how long can Mexico resist? That is our problem. What will be the net and the ultimate gain to the people of the United States of the policy aptly called by one of its great captains 'Dollar Diplomacy'? That is your problem."

Chicagoan Drowned While

Walter Kuffel, 29 years old, 1080 North Paulina street, was drowned yesterday when he fell into the Fox river near Mooseheart. Kuffel was fishing from the river bank with a friend at the time of the accident. His companion attempted to rescue him with a fishing pole, but the pole snapped and Kuffel fell back into the water.

MEXICO REPLIES TO CATHOLICS ON NEW CHURCH LAW

Aims to Keep Priests
Out of Politics.

Mexico City, July 6.—(AP)—The new religious regulations, it was declared tonight in the first detailed authorized statement of the viewpoint of the Mexican government, may be taken as the government's reply to a recent circular of high church dignitaries to Catholics throughout the republic, "ordering them to take active part in national politics, organize political associations, and in general to present a united front to control the government administration."

"The present regulations," it was added, "define violations of the constitutional provisions, and, in some cases, go a little farther than the constitutional provisions and give them more strict application."

"Keep Church from Politics."
"Although the circular issued by the church dignitaries directs Catholics to adopt a peaceful attitude and not resort to violence, the government in its regulations is limiting the activities of Catholic priests so they may keep themselves within their religious practices."

The regulations apply to all religions, but the Catholic church is most affected because it is the purpose of the Mexican government to keep the Catholic church outside of politics. Prohibition of religious teaching in official schools and private, primary, and high schools has been enforced for a long time. We now add penalties for priests and teachers who violate this ruling.

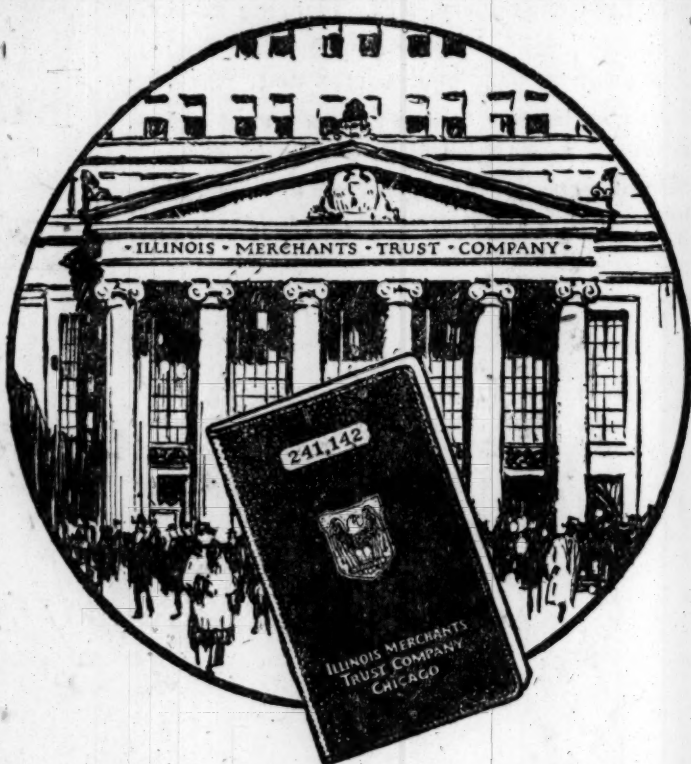

Mexico has been closing or attempting to close convents and monasteries for sixty years.

"But as it has always been possible to evade these efforts at closure, the present regulations endeavor to make evasions and violations impossible by strict punishment of individual violators."

Limit Religious Press Only.
The regulations undoubtedly curtail the freedom of the press, but only in regard to religious publications or those publications showing a marked inclination to favor any religious creed.

"Such publications after July 31 should limit themselves to news not related to governmental acts or national political affairs and are denied the right to criticize the authorities or comment upon laws."

"The regulations have nothing whatever to do with nonreligious publications."

An appeal to your eye and to your heart

IT is with great pleasure that we invite you to enjoy with us the American antiques we have assembled on our third floor. Come in when you have a spare half hour, and look at the chairs, tables, secretaries, desks and mirrors, which tell the story of the way our forefathers lived, as well as interpret their instinctive appreciation of design, line and proportion.

An American antique appeals to love and pride of country. The devotion and skill with which the craftsmen of our forefathers' time wrought to bring perfection of design, line and workmanship to the things they made strikes the answering chord of our national pride. Our sturdy ancestors had a true appreciation of beauty, and enriched their daily family life by making the furniture about them harmonious, dignified and handsome.

All the antiques that we can show you are authentic, and in good condition. Any one of them will dignify and beautify your home. You will find them practical as well as attractive. The prices are reasonable for the value of the pieces.

ALD. POWERS, 74, OFF TO EUROPE WITH BRIDE, 38

Formal announcement of the marriage of Ald. John Powers and Mrs. Frances Lawler Wolf was made yesterday by Miss Mano Lawler, sister of the bride, on the eve of the sailing of Mr. and Mrs. Powers for Europe.

Married on June 10.

The marriage ceremony was performed in St. Elizabeth's Catholic church on June 10. After the ceremony Ald. Powers vigorously denied that he contemplated matrimony. When confronted with the fact that he obtained a marriage license he dismissed inquiries with the statement, "There must be some mistake."

Ald. Powers for many years has been a conspicuous figure in Chicago politics. He is 74 years old and his marriage to Mrs. Wolf is his fourth. The bride is 38 years old.

The couple will sail from New York on the Olympic and will visit most of the European capitals before their return to Chicago in the fall.

Missing 7 Years; Hunted Here to Claim Fortune

Search has been instituted here for Thomas J. Kennedy, 55, who disappeared from his home in Holyoke, Mass., on Jan. 28, 1919. No trace of the missing man was ever found and after a time the search was abandoned. The recent death of a relative made Kennedy heir to a considerable fortune, it is understood. He is described as being 5 feet 7 or 8 inches tall and 250 pounds in weight. He has a smooth, red, full face with a scar over his left eye and is slightly stooped.

CROSS EXAMINES HUSBAND IN HIS SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Newport, R. I., July 6.—[Special.]—Mrs. Jessie Margaret Budlong, who is being sued by her husband, Milton J. Budlong of this city and New York, for a divorce on the ground of cruelty, is again acting as her own counsel. She personally took up the cross-examination of Mr. Budlong today and asked: "Do you complain of any acts of cruelty prior to 1918?"

"Not in this action, but I have complained many times," Mr. Budlong replied. "You said I was running around with other women."

"In whose presence were these acts of cruelty committed?"

"In the presence of the Corwins."

Ashtons, Fredericks, Jovs, and Jackson.

Mrs. Budlong pressed for specific instances and Mr. Budlong replied: "You said you devoted a great deal of time keeping me away from other women."

"Do you think it cruelty that a wife should endeavor to hold her husband?" she asked.

"The methods you adopted, yes," was the reply.

ANDREWS WON'T QUIT DRY POST UNTIL AUTUMN

Denial by Andrews

New York, July 6.—(AP)—Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, chief of the prohibition enforcement service, denied any intention of resigning just before sailing on the Aquitania tonight. He said the statement made in Washington today by President Coolidge relative to newspaper reports of his resignation was correct in every particular.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., June 6.—(Special)—Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, federal dry chief, today informed Secretary of the Treasury Mellon that he wished to resign, but at the request of administration leaders he has agreed to remain in the service at least until fall.

Plans New Organization

"I came here," Andrews said today, "to build up a new organization and I will not leave now until it is working smoothly. I have agreed to stay until the changes necessitated by the passage of the second deficiency bill can be put into effect. Next fall, probably in September, I will call all the federal administrators to Washington and lay down the policy which must be followed. At that time I expect the organization will be complete."

"Will it take longer than September for you to get your organization perfected so you can leave if you wish to?"

"It should not," Mr. Andrews answered.

Immediately after his conference with the secretary, Mr. Andrews left for New York to sail for England.

where he will attempt to work out regulations which will cut down the British smuggled rum supply in this country.

Resignation Is Denied

Reports that Gen. Andrews had resigned were denied both at the White House and by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

Gen. Andrews while admitting that he had not officially resigned, said that he would not stay in the service after he had completed his organization.

Just before he left Washington Gen. Andrews gave approval to a number of orders having to do with organization. In a letter to the administrators he gave them notice that they could promote some dry agents to the special inspection squads that will deal with the bootlegging industry and especially with the surveillance of drug stores handling medicinal whisky.

BADGER SENATE CANDIDATES BOTH OPPOSED TO VARE

Madison, Wis., July 6.—[Special.]—

A newspaper controversy here as to how the two candidates for the United States senate—Senator L. L. Lenroot and Gov. John J. Blaine—stood on the question of seating Senator Vare of Pennsylvania brought a promise from both of the candidates today that they would vote against the seating of Vare.

In case of Mr. Vare's election he should not be seated," Gov. Blaine declared. "The street car sign, 'Pay as you enter,' must not hang over the door of the senate. I shall vote against the seating of Mr. Vare or any other person claiming election to the senate whose campaign expenditures, in good conscience, can be said to be excessive, or where the amount expended is so large as to imply corruption in its use."

Senator Lenroot issued a statement saying:

"I will decide every case on the facts as they appear. I refused to vote to expel the late Senator La Follette from the senate because there was no evidence to warrant it. I voted to seat Newberry because there was no evidence of corrupt conduct on his part. I voted against seating Senator Nye of North Dakota because the people of North Dakota had never given the governor power to appoint a senator. I voted against unseating Brookhart because I believed the evidence showed that he was entitled to his seat. I shall vote against seating Vare if he is elected unless the evidence produced before the special senate investigating committee is shown to be false."

CRIME NO WORSE THAN EVER, SAYS JUDGE LINDSAY

CRIMINAL COURT.
Frank Walicki, larceny, sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge William J. Lindsay.

Judge William J. Lindsay, who will become chief justice of the Criminal court in September, spoke yesterday before the City club on "The Crime Situation from the Point of View of the Bench."

"I do not believe crime is much more rampant or vicious today than it has been in the various periods of our history," he said, "but, by reason of greater publicity and more accurate information furnished by the press concerning the salient features of particular crimes, the appalling character of crime has impressed itself upon the public mind to a greater degree than ever before."

"It is also true that an enlightened public conscience has led to prosecutions in cases which in former years were ignored or brushed up for various personal, social or political reasons. Today, the social, financial, or political rank or prestige of an individual is no longer a barrier to criminal prosecution."

It was considered that Judge Lindsay was referring to prohibition when he said:

"It is my belief that one reason for the increased hue and cry about crime is the fact that many offenses have been created by statute or ordinance which formerly were not classed as crimes."

"This has led to an apparent increase of crime by reason of many prosecutions for violations which should be considered violations of ordinances and should not appear in the arrest records as criminal offenses." The judge said he believed the police department, the state's attorney's office and the courts are functioning properly and efficiently. He had several suggestions which included abolition of the grand jury, judges specializing in the hearing of criminal cases, disposal of all minor cases in the Municipal or Justice courts, and the "cultivation of a respect for religion, government and the home itself."

Wife, Suing for Divorce, Finds Husband Self-Slain

Despondent because his wife filed suit for a divorce last Friday, Arndt Anderson, 34 years old, committed suicide the following day by inhaling gas at his home, 3901 North Cicero avenue. The body was discovered yesterday by the widow, who went to the house to get her personal belongings. She said that they had been separated for a month and that Anderson had made several attempts at reconciliation.

HURT, LONES ARM, DIES.
George Yedick, 27, of 1825 South Forty-eighth court, died yesterday. An arm had been amputated a year ago after he hurt it while entering his auto.

4 ARRESTED IN FAKE BATHING BEAUTY CONTEST

Three white men were enmeshed in what Judge Herbert G. Immenhausen termed a "white slavers' clearing house" yesterday when Vernon Om-dell, 4500 Sheridan road; Joel H. Williams, 25 years old, and a man known as Briggs, the latter not apprehended, were arraigned in the Court of Domestic Relations on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors and operating a confidence game. The men with two negroes, Harris Holmes and Stanley Crawford, who are in custody, were officials of the Admiration Products company, with a room in the Brookmont hotel, 3955 South Michigan avenue.

was the hiding place for Mildred Kavanaugh, south side heiress, sought in connection with the slaying of Frank Crimaldi, Detroit bootlegger, who was found shot to death in a suburb. Later she was arrested in the home of a Negroess with several other Negroes.

The defendants, against whom more than twenty complaints have been lodged, it is said, conducted a fake bathing beauty contest in order to sell cosmetics. The girls, who are white, declared they had submitted to the vilest indecencies at the hands of the Negroes. Three of the girls told Sgt. Wellington Britton of the detective bureau that the men insisted on measuring their bodies, as well as photographing them. Chief Shoemaker searched the "office" and found several letters that will lead to many more arrests.

Assistant State's Attorney Robert M. Woodward questioned some of the girls and said that he intended issuing warrants for many more Negroes implicated in the fake contest. Mr. Woodward indicated that he will ask a continuance for one week to enable Sgt. Britton to complete his investigation.

CHANGE OF VENUE IS DENIED TO 3 IN CONSPIRACY CASE

A petition for change of venue in the conspiracy trial of Adolph Lauter, north side hotel owner, and two others, was denied yesterday by Judge Worth E. Caylor. The judge declared he would hear the case this morning.

Attorneys for Lauter, George I. Watson, and Luther R. Benton, real estate dealer, declared that the three men had been indicted through the efforts of George Carlson, former commissioner of gas and electricity. Carlson had said, it was charged, that he had seen Judge Caylor about the case.

Carlson denied this and the judge said he had never talked to Carlson. The men are accused of obtaining ownership of the Commonwealth hotel, 2757 Pine Grove avenue, in a trick real estate deal. Carlson was interested in the case, it was charged, because he was a friend of Axel E. Johnson, former owner of the hotel.

VAN VECHTEN IS STATE BANK OF CHICAGO HEAD

Leaves the Continental to Become President.

BY O. A. MATHER.
(Picture on back page.)

One of the most important changes in Chicago bank personnel in several years was announced last night. Ralph Van Vechten, for many years senior vice president and a director of the Continental and Commercial National bank, resigned those positions to become president of the State Bank of Chicago, now located in the Chamber of Commerce building, La Salle and Washington streets.

The choice of Mr. Van Vechten as active head of the State Bank of Chicago is coincident with plans to build a skyscraper at La Salle and Monroe streets.

To Replace Woman's Temple.
The bank last week concluded the purchase of the site now occupied by the Woman's temple. This building will be replaced within the next two years by an edifice which, with the ground, will represent an investment of about $10,000,000.

The election of Mr. Van Vechten, which becomes effective immediately, caused other changes in the personnel of the State Bank of Chicago. Henry A. Haugan, who has been president, will become chairman of the board. Two new positions were created, Leroy A. Goddard, until now chairman of the board, becomes chairman of the executive committee. Oscar H. Haugan, formerly vice president, becomes vice chairman of the board of directors.

G. M. Reynolds' Statement.
"Mr. Van Vechten's resignation was presented to our directors today and was accepted with regret," George M. Reynolds, chairman of the Continental and Commercial banks, said last night. "We are sorry to have him leave, while at the same time we wish him every success."

After twenty-one years of service it is hard to leave the Continental and Commercial banks," Mr. Van Vechten said. "The Reynolds brothers and their directorate have shown me every consideration. On the other hand, I feel that the State Bank of Chicago offers a splendid opportunity for growth and development."

Mr. Van Vechten was born in Matamoras, Mich., in 1862. He began his banking career in Cedar Rapids, Ia., in 1889, later becoming president and chairman of the Cedar Rapids National bank. He became vice president of the Commercial National bank of Chicago in 1908.

HUSBAND'S BODY FOUND; FAMILY SAW DEATH LEAP

The body of Michael Pabolik, 45, a Harvey soft drink parlor proprietor, who committed suicide Monday by leaping from a boat in the middle of Flint lake near Valparaiso, Ind., was recovered yesterday.

Pabolik, according to reports made to the police, had quarreled with his wife and tried to kill her with a knife. He tried to persuade her to accompany him in the boat and it is believed he intended to drown her also. Mrs. Pabolik and their three children saw his leap.

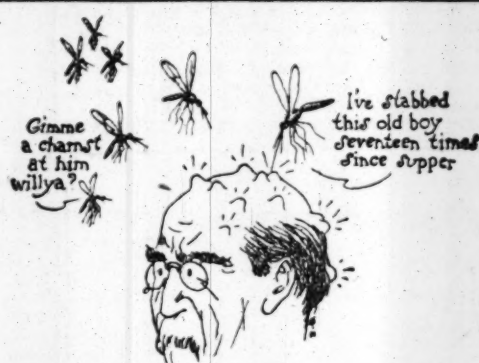

Bodies of three Chicagoans, two known to have drowned, were being sought yesterday. Patrick Scott, 23

RAILROAD MAN KILLED IN FIVE STORY PLUNGE

An hour before he was due to appear for work John Walters, 50, a claim adjuster for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, was found dying yesterday on the sidewalk beside the railroad offices at Fullerton and Southport avenues, after a fall from a sixth floor window. His superiors in the department deprecated the theory that he had committed suicide, declaring they believed he had fallen while lowering an awning. Walters was married, the father of three children, and lived at 4313 Parker avenue.

The Greatest Single Force for increasing
merchandise consumption in America

1. An advertisement in The American Magazine has the power of Sixty-Six Million Circulation Days—the greatest power that can be given it in any general monthly or weekly magazine.
2. In most towns of 1,000 or more population The American Magazine has more circulation than any other general monthly or weekly magazine.
3. Everywhere The American Magazine parallels your market opportunity to an unusual degree. Its circulation by counties closely follows the distribution of income tax payers, retail outlets, auto owners, and home owners. And it reaches all classes of people in proportion to their market value to you.
4. Numerous house-to-house investigations have shown that The American Magazine is read by all members of the family that influence consumption—fathers, mothers, and young people.
5. The things that people read in The American Magazine stimulate them to better living—to a fuller, richer life. For years its unusual reader responsiveness has been known to those advertisers who could trace this through direct returns.

How Salesmen should read their firms' advertisements

How much real study do you give your firm's advertisements in the magazines?

We don't mean the proofs which your sales manager sends out to you.

We mean the advertisements in the magazines themselves.

For only by studying these magazines and knowing all about them can you get a real idea of what your firm's advertising is doing.

Only in this way can you pass on to dealers the real story of what it is accomplishing for them.

And this story is one that dealers want to hear today. Many an order has depended upon how well the salesman has been able to tell it.

That, of course, is because every one with merchandise to sell—the dealer, yourself, and the head of your firm—realizes that, in the final analysis, the consumer decides his success or failure.

The consumer must buy from the dealer before the dealer can buy from you.

Getting more consumers to buy more goods is the big job facing each of you.

And National Magazine Advertising is one of the strongest helps you have.

That is why dealers upon whom you call will be interested to know that your product, if it is advertised in The American Magazine, has behind it the greatest single force for increasing merchandise consumption in America.

There are five main reasons why this is so. Note, for instance, point four in the panel above.

Every shrewd dealer knows that all members of the family influence the selection of practically all types of goods sold. They will not fail to see the importance of the fact that, in The American Magazine, your firm's advertising is read by all members of the family more than in any other general monthly or weekly magazine.

There are some very interesting figures backing up this point. They are given in the Vest Pocket Sales Manual which we have published for your use.

This booklet also enables you to give the dealer local figures for the other four points. How many homes in his town or country, for example, your firm's advertising in The American Magazine is reaching.

How long each advertisement works for him (it stays in each home a full 30 days.)

How long those advertisements reach all classes of people right around his store. And how the figures prove that readers of The American Magazine are remarkably responsive to the advertising in its pages.

This booklet is yours for the asking. Why not send for it now? Please give your firm's name. Address The Crowell Publishing Company, 250 Park Avenue, New York.

CHARGE GUNS PUT BIG TIM AT HEAD OF TIRE DEALERS

Foes Stir Row in Court,
Seeking to Depose Him.

A hint that representatives of Big Tim Murphy, recently released from Leavenworth penitentiary, used revolvers as their chief arguments in behalf of Murphy's election as president of the Chicago Tire Dealers' association, provoked much excitement yesterday in Circuit Judge Ira Ryner's court when members of the association sought to have Murphy deposed.

It was charged by Attorney Alex Freundlich, representing the tire dealers, that three of Murphy's aids called on a member named Passago and talked to him about Murphy's election. During the course of the conversation, the lawyer said, the three men drew guns from their pockets and laid them on the table.

Lawyers Tilt Over Charge.

Grover Holmes, Murphy's lawyer, jumped at his feet.

"You're not charging that Murphy resorted to any of this gun play?" he demanded of Freundlich.

"Well," the latter retorted, "the window of Charles Richmond, business agent, who is one of the petitioners here, was smashed. And Tim Murphy offered to pay for the damage."

Judge Ryner stopped further discussion on this point. He asked whether proper notification of the meeting at which Murphy was elected president had been sent to members.

Attorney Freundlich then explained that on June 5, a Saturday, John Schrader, secretary of the association, sent out notices of a meeting to be held the following day. The members, he said, received the notices in the mail Monday, twenty-four hours after Murphy had been elected.

Recalls the By-Laws.

"The by-laws require a five day notice to all members of an approaching election," the lawyer told the judge. "But at the meeting on June 6 Murphy was elected president; S. J. O'Neil, secretary; Patrick J. Ludy, treasurer, and William D. Thomas, business agent."

Immediately afterward, the court was told, Murphy mailed notices to the 400 members of the association that he alone had authority to manage the business of the organization, and called on them to pay no attention to James Weber, deposed president, if he attempted to collect dues.

"Why, I just became president as a favor to the members," explained Murphy. "I'm elected legally, and the association will begin to be a real association from now on."

Judge Ryner will make a decision today, he announced.

HANDCUFF BANDIT BEATS HIS PAL TO LOOT, THEN RUNS

Two robbers, one of whom lacked the traditional honor of the calling, held up Frank McCormick, a collector for the Roxana Petroleum corporation, in a filling station at Division street and Leclaire avenue yesterday. While one of the pair handcuffed McCormick and Forrest Barnett, an attendant, and marched them into a side room, the other extracted $2,000 from the collector's brief case. Showing the money hastily into his pocket, he ran into the street.

The second bandit, having fastened his prisoners, examined the brief case. He had not seen his partner's action. Finding that no money was left, he cried that he had been double crossed and ran in pursuit of the other. It was necessary to saw the handcuffs.

Mistaken for Cop, Porter Routes Thieves, Saves $5,000

Joseph Sedel, 534 North Dearborn street, a porter, was taken early yesterday morning for a policeman. As he entered the Merigold Gardens, Grace and Halsted streets, five armed men fled to the street. Sedel found the watchman, Gustav Clausen, bound and gagged. The would-be robbers missed $5,000 in the safe.

How many people actually have halitosis (unpleasant breath)?

Read what dentists
have to say about this:

EVERY reader of Listerine advertising knows about halitosis (unpleasant breath), that insidious thing that not even your best friends discuss with you.

Yet there are still a few "doubting Thomas" folks who think halitosis is only a state of mind.

Out of simple curiosity we put this question up to a carefully selected list of dentists—1000 of them—and in a letter asked them the following:

Do you ever use Listerine, in self-defense, in the mouth of a patient troubled with halitosis, unpleasant breath?

Please answer if you use it this way (1) Frequently, (2) Occasionally, or (3) Never.

Four hundred and forty replied as follows:

83% said "Frequently"
15% said "Occasionally"
Only 2% said "Never."

Now, what human being meets halitosis at closer range, face to face, than the dentist? And who would be a better judge of this condition—and how to combat it—than the dentist?—Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, U. S. A.

JAEN MARRE IS WINNER OF ELKS' BEAUTY CONTEST

Chosen "Miss Fidelity" from Big Field.

A pair of blue eyes and a wealth of blonde hair have carried Jaen Marre, 1641 East 50th street, into the finals and the semi-finals of most of the pulchritude contests staged in Chicago during recent years.

But it was a graceful carriage and an almost professional poise, in addition to her good looks, that enabled her to walk off with the coveted title of "Miss Fidelity" as winner of the Elks' beauty derby, in the Bal Tabarin room of the Sherman hotel yesterday.

Gets Movie Contract.

Which means that after reigning as queen of the Elks' convention here this month Jaen will be sent to Universal City, and will be given a moving picture contract.

Second of the four winners was Miss Marie Hanley, 5618 Calumet boulevard, who will be "Miss Justice" in the Elks' pageant and will also go to Universal City for a film tryout.

Miss Marjorie Moline, 4619 Magnolia, ranked third. She will be "Miss Charity," and after the convention will be given a trip to Yellowstone park and other western points.

Miss Mona Leis MacMillan of 6220 Ingleside, who will be "Miss Brotherhood Love," will receive a trip to the sesquicentennial exposition at Philadelphia.

Seventy-five Start.

Judges for the contest, in which the seventy-five entrants were narrowed to fifteen for a final contest, were V. E. Meadows, Max Hyman, John P. Delaney, W. D. Bartholomew, and Bruce Godshaw.

Leading balloon pilots from all over the country are preparing to come to Chicago for the balloon races to be held here next Tuesday afternoon in Grant park as a feature of the Elks' convention. Prizes of $1,000, $700, $500, and $300 will be awarded for the longest distance traveled.

ITALIANS STRIKE AGAINST DUCE'S 9 HR. WORK DAY

LONDON, July 6.—(AP)—A dispatch to the Daily Herald from Chiasso, Switzerland, asserts that Premier Mussolini's attempt to enforce a nine-hour day is being strongly resisted, the workers threatening to revolt.

About 1,000 workers at Carrolo, near Turin, went on strike, the dispatch says, when their employers tried to enforce the extra hour. Police and Fascist militia occupied the mills and arrested several strikers. Agricultural workers in the Molinella district are refusing to recognize the Fascist unions, the dispatch says.

Fascists Suspend Elections.

ROME, July 6.—(AP)—The Fascist government has decided upon indefinite suspension of all provincial, communal, and municipal elections. The step will be taken to bring home vividly to the people of Italy the necessity of abandoning all internal political strife.

RIVER GIVES UP BODY OF SAILOR; MURDER IS HINTED

An investigation is to be begun today to determine whether a man about 36 years old, whose body was discovered floating in the river near the Michigan avenue bridge yesterday afternoon, was a murder victim.

At the county morgue an examination of the body showed that there was no water in the lungs and that the man had been struck heavily on the head.

A card found in a pocket showed that he was Joseph Budz, a member of the Lake Seaman's union, and that he lived at 463 Fay street. No one could be found at that address who knew Budz.

Record of Total Advertising—New York Evening Newspapers
TWELVE MONTHS ENDED JUNE 30, 1926

The Outstanding Leader

Among New York Evening Newspapers

THE characteristic that determines the productivity of a newspaper as a medium for advertisers is the kind of people who read it.

If all persons were equally responsive to advertising, then the newspaper with the largest circulation would bring the best results. But persons vary greatly in their needs and desires, in their purchasing power, in their intelligence, in their attitude toward advertising.

And so, newspapers vary greatly in their value to advertisers—in their ability to produce results; and this variation is dependent more on the quality, the responsiveness, of circulation than on the quantity.

The reason why advertisers get better results through The Sun than through any other New York evening newspaper, the reason why they use more space in The Sun than in any other New York evening newspaper, is because The Sun is read by people of more than average means and better than average intelligence—people who have purchasing power as well as purchasing impulse—people of wide activities, many interests and large influence—people who are responsive to advertising.

Among these people The Sun has a larger home circulation than any other New York weekday newspaper.

For twelve consecutive months The Sun has published more advertising than any other New York evening newspaper—an indication of the superior productivity of its advertising columns.

During this period The Sun published 16 million lines of advertising—leading the second evening newspaper by more than one million lines.

For twelve consecutive months The Sun has made larger gains in advertising than any other New York evening newspaper—an indication that advertisers in increasingly large numbers are becoming convinced of the advantages of The Sun and are satisfied with the results secured through The Sun.

Behind its effectiveness as a medium for advertisers—behind its large and growing circulation among the kind of people that advertisers are most anxious to reach—stands the high quality of The Sun as a newspaper.

Vigorous and independent in its editorial policies, complete and accurate in all its news departments, entertaining in its many features, clean, wholesome and interesting throughout—The Sun naturally attracts as its readers the progressive and prosperous men and women of New York.

The Sun maintains a rigid censorship on all advertising

SOVIET BUDGET SHOWS SURPLUS OF $58,906,000

State Industries Report Their First Gains.

(Copyright, 1926, By the New York Times.)
MOSCOW, July 6. — Remarkable progress is shown in the soviet union budget published in Economic Life today. It covers the fiscal year from Oct. 1, 1925, to Sept. 30, 1926. For the second year in succession the budget not only is balanced, but shows a surplus—this time of 117,812,000 rubles ($58,906,000). Last year's surplus was 20,000,000 rubles ($10,000,000), but the total budget then was only 2,875,000,000 rubles ($1,437,500,000), whereas this year it was 4,033,000,000 rubles ($2,016,500,000).

State Projects Show Surplus.
A healthy sign is that posts, telegraphs, railroads, and other state industries this year show an excess of receipts over expenditures, which has not been the case hitherto. The present tax is 35 per cent less than last year. Though taxes on industry and incomes have been slightly increased, direct taxation as a whole has been reduced from 642,000,000 rubles ($321,000,000) to 553,000,000 rubles ($276,500,000).

Budget Stability Sure.
It is true that 120,000,000 rubles ($60,000,000) from internal loans is included in this year's receipts. However, this is counterbalanced by the fact that two items included under expenditures—the reserve funds and the subvention fund—amount to 246,000,000 rubles ($123,000,000). This puts the budget's stability beyond doubt.

SESQUI SUNDAY RULE ALIENATES TWO CHURCHES

Philadelphia, Pa., July 6. — (AP) — The Presbyterian church, through Dr. Lewis Seymour Mudge, its clerk, today notified Mayor Kendrick that the denomination has withdrawn its support from the sesquicentennial exposition because of the policy of keeping the exhibition open on Sunday.

Dr. Mudge resigned from various committees, withdrew resolutions that the Presbyterian general assembly adopted in May approving the exposition for its then declared policy of Sabbath observance, and severed all relations of an official character between the church and the exposition.

It became known today that the committee of the East Pennsylvania synod and the ministerium of Pennsylvania of the United Lutheran church in America, has also decided not to have an exhibit at the exposition because of the Sunday opening policy.

In a letter to Joseph R. Wilson of the sesquicentennial department of education, the Rev. Dr. Nathan R. Melhorn, a member of the committee, stated that "the action of the board of directors of the sesqui, reversing themselves on Sunday closing, has resulted in a pronounced objection among Lutherans to our participating in the exhibits."

BRITISH RAILWAY CONGRESS BARS NONUNION PRESS

Reporters Walk Out in a Huff.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, July 6. — Despite a long speech of warning by J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the British railway men's union, before the union's congress at Weymouth yesterday, the members of the congress passed resolutions today declaring that only representatives of trade union papers will be allowed to report the meeting. Immediately upon the passage of the measure, twenty journalists rose up and indignantly walked out of the hall.

When the resolutions were brought up, Mr. Thomas begged the delegates not to make themselves ridiculous by attempting to muzzle the press. He said the reporters were in good standing themselves. He pointed out that thousands of railwaymen throughout the country have not bought the union paper and would be unable to learn of the conference's proceedings.

According to the labor correspondent of the Westminster Gazette, a starting secret history of the general strike will be discussed in a secret session of the railway men's conference this week.

One report is that Premier Stanley Baldwin, while having a difficult time with the die-hard in the cabinet, including Lord Birkenhead, Lord Salisbury, and Mr. Bridgeman, during one of the cabinet meetings threatened to resign, nominating Winston Churchill as his successor. The threat apparently jolted the reactionary group and an agreement was reached, it is said.

The government is going to import coal on a huge scale, it was revealed in a supplementary estimate in the house of commons last night for £3,423,000 (about $17,000,000). Three million pounds ($15,000,000) of this will be used for the immediate purchase of continental coal.

On the other hand, though deprived of the foreign financial assistance which has helped to balance the budgets of Germany and Italy, Russia is unburdened by foreign or internal debts, except some 200,000,000 rubles ($100,000,000) raised during the last two years.

is one of the best reporters that American journalism has produced. He is a man of analytical mind, who approaches a political or economic investigation without personal prejudice or predetermined judgment. Every summer for years he has made at least one trip through the states of the Middle West to note the trend of politics and commerce.

Mr. Evans knows how to get information, how much to discount for political interest, where to go and what to ask for. He has the acquaintance and the confidence of the influential, powerful leaders of the Middle West. And he has the ability to write about politics and economics—subjects often dry and prosy—in a brilliant style, a combination of humor, satire and direct narration.

This series of articles will be written while on the march. They will be wired each night to The Tribune for publication the following morning.

Mr. Evans' trip will include the Dakotas, the fountain-head of radical politics, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska and Iowa. The investigation necessarily will include economic aspects as well as Philadelphia, Pa., July 6.—[Special.]—West conquered the east in the struggle for team championship of the A. A. U. today at the municipal stadium in one of the most thrilling struggles ever witnessed in this event. While in the total points scored the Illinois A. C. of Chicago was tied with the New York A. C. at 45 points each, the cup emblematic of the championship went to the Chicagoans because the westerners had captured five first places, while the east could garner but three.

HAROLD OSBORN.

Osborn's winning total was 7,187.832 points. His clubmate, Harry Friedlaender, was second with 6,820.345 and Clifford Hoffman, Olympic club, San Francisco, third with 6,348.4625.

Illinois A. C. Wins Relay.

Never before in the history of such events was the struggle so close in competition as marked the goal on the eastern coast. The new record was due largely to the splendid running of Ray Dodge, their anchor man, who carried Willie Goodwin, running in the same berth for the Manhattan athletes, right off his feet.

Boston Wins 2 Mile Relay.

Another world's record surrendered to the spiked hoofs of four Bostonians in the two-mile relay race. Pitted against the New York A. C., the Boston Athletic association captured the honors. The new record was due to the run by Lloyd Hahn, who negotiated his half mile in 1:51.15, a record for 180 yards from a flying start.

GOLFERS UNEASY AS THEY AWAIT NATIONAL OPEN

Rough Course Worries Large Field.

BY MORROW KRUM.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Columbus, O., July 6.—The large field of golf stars assembled here for the national open golf tournament today pondered over a difficult question. Should they provide themselves with sticks to combat the tall grass before they start on the 72 hole journey to the championship?

That was the problem of each golfer, he he Bob Jones or Peter O'Hara, Australian professional, whose shots are just a little wild. They had to think it over today, for most of the daylight hours were filled with rain and the golfers sat in the clubhouse.

It seems that the officials of the U. S. G. A. and those of the Scioto Country club, where the tournament is to be played, starting Thursday, have given careful attention to the rough of the course. Some one said the rough should be fourteen inches high, and the officials of the club, being more than anxious to impress golfers of four nations with the hardships of the game as it is played in Ohio, have grown a rough that has terrified the field.

Grass Thick, High.

The grass is fourteen inches high. It is thicker than the radishes of an amateur gardener. It is strong, tough, and wiry.

"I got four inches off the fairway and I got an eight on the hole," said Bob Cruikshank today. "You can't get a ball out of it without a derick."

"My first trip around the course had two eights and a seven on it," complained Lloyd Guillekin. "The fairways are about as wide as Indian trails and the rough—"

"The members of Scioto have given up golf," said another.

So important is this question of the rough that the official wisemen, who predicted that a 290 would win the tournament, now believe that the player who shoots a 298 has a good chance. Many domestics say Hagen will use his iron off the tee so as to keep 'em straight.

Par Is 72.

But the officials are grinning at the kickers. It's a real test, this course is, they say, and the man who wins will be a great golfer. The course is long. It measures 6,563 yards and has a par of 72. However, the players are contemplating taking sickles with them when they start on the first hole of the championship Thursday morning.

Bobby Jones arrived today and was greeted with cheers and congratulations. He played five holes before the day's rains. Walter Hagen also arrived today.

Kaplan Drops Title; Can't Make Weight

BY FRENCH LANE.

As a result of action in Judge Ira Ryner's court yesterday racing fans in Chicago and Cook county were assured of at least another week of open wagering on turf contests at the new Washington Park track in Homewood.

Judge Ryner granted an extension of a week to the owners of the track, who were unable to make weight for the championship of the world, which was to be held at the track on Saturday.

The king of the featherweights, who won his title a year ago last winter by stopping Danny Kramer of Philadelphia after winning his way through the eliminations in a title fight, which he lost to Louis Lombardo on the way up, will resign his title.

From now on he will do all his fighting as a lightweight.

Although Kaplan stopped the last two men against whom he defended his title, Kid Roy in Canada and Bobby Garcia in Hartford, Conn., he had trouble in making the weight, and the mediocrity of the general talent in the lightweight class has led him to go for the championship at his natural weight.

Kaplan was matched to meet Red Chapman of Boston at the Queensboro A. C. Long Island City, July 15, but if he resigns his title the bout naturally will fall through.

Plans are already under way to match Kaplan with Ace Hudkins of Omaha in the New Garden, and the match will probably take place in December.

MANY TO SEEK THRONE

Kaplan's voluntary forfeiture of the featherweight title undoubtedly will start the managers of many featherweights into action. No sooner had the news reached Chicago than Ray Alvis, manager of Eddie Shaw, the west side Italian, put in a claim for his fighter, and Frank Churchill, who looks after the interests of Johnny Hill, the Filipino, did likewise. Churchill also stated that Morgan, the recognized world's junior lightweight champion, can make the weight and is entitled to consideration.

Cubs Beat Pirates, 3 to 0; Then Champs Cop, 3 to 2

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 6.—The Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates split even in a double header today because, in the judgment of the umpires, rain stopped the second game just when the Cubs were about to explode a giant firecracker which they had been saving. The Cubs won the first game, 3 to 0, and dropped the second, 3 to 2, when the game was called after five and a half innings had been played.

With the world's champion Pirates struggling along with a crippled pitching staff and being ahead in the second game, it probably was fortunate for them the rain came just when it did. There was a break shower just when the teams were changing sides. It was one of those showers that was raining here and not across the street. Ump Charley Moran working behind the plate, called time. Before you knew it the game was stopped, and again before you knew it the little shower had passed over the ball park and was dripping on the Carnegie library.

Scotch Mist Hails the Battle.

Then for ten minutes or more not a drop of anything came down. Everything was as dry as Kansas before the rain. Ump Moran sat outside the Pirates' bench and figured out how formations for his football team next fall. He never once noticed that the rain had entirely ceased. Some ground keepers came up and spread canvas over the home plate and the pitcher's mound, just as if it were still raining.

Then, all of a sudden, a regular Scotch mist started to fall. Ump Moran turned up his trousers and crawled back under the dugout. So after waiting the required thirty minutes, Mr. Moran instructed the dugout to get out and tell the folks that the game was called because of rain. So, Pittsburgh got an even break in the double header.

In the first game the Pirates, being desperate for pitchers, sent old Joe Bush to the slab. He had just procured his freedom from the American league. Ump Sheriff Blake was no mercy on old timers. He shut out the big champions, never once being in danger.

Meadows Beats Cubs.

In the second game Young Bob Osborn was in against the veteran Lee Meadows. The Pirates got two runs off Osborn in the third. Meadows singled and went to third on Moore's double. Waner's sacrifice fly brought in Meadows and Cuyler's single scored Moore.

In the next inning Grantham's double, Barnhart's sacrifice and Meadows' sacrifice fly produced what turned out to be the winning run.

The only scoring by the Cubs came in the fourth. Heathcote singled and so did Freigau. Wilson walked, Scott fanned, but Grimm hit to an infielder and Heathcote scored, while Freigau got home on an error by Wright.

WHEAT IS HIGHER ON SENSATIONAL DAMAGE REPORTS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Sensational bad crop reports from the American northwest, with a decidedly strong Minneapolis market, kept wheat values on the upgrade the greater part of the day, while the finish was on a fair reaction, due to profit taking, the close showed net gains of 7 1/2¢, with July at $1.26 1/2, September, $1.26 1/2, and December, $1.26 1/2. July touched $1.28 on the bulge and September $1.27 1/2. Selling against offers and profit taking checked the upturn. Minneapolis gained 3 1/2¢, with July leading, mills taking both that delivery and the September. Kansas City gained 2 1/2¢, and Winnipeg 1 1/2¢. Strength in wheat had considerable influence on coarse grains with corn 3/4¢ higher. July finished at $0.69 1/2, September, $0.69 1/2, and December, $0.69 1/2. Oats were 1/2¢ higher, with July 37 1/2¢ and September 35 1/2¢. Rye advanced 1/2¢, with July 55 1/2¢ and September 53 1/2¢.

Refuse Spring Wheat Estimates.

Estimates on the spring wheat crop in the three northwestern states are being steadily reduced as the result of continued hot and dry weather, and Minneapolis traders who were out in the country over the holidays returned with a pessimistic opinion of the prospective yield. Being by mills and local traders was responsible for the sensational upturn in that market. Kinyon estimates that North Dakota will not raise more than 6,000,000 bu. at a maximum and South Dakota around 10,000,000 bu. Indicated yield of the three states is around 115,000,000 bu., against 170,000,000 bu. harvested last year.

Immense receipts of new winter wheat in the southwest failed to have any effect on the markets, as hedging pressure was light. Including Kansas City, Wichita, Hutchinson, and other southwestern points, receipts exceeded 4,000 cars. Premiums at Kansas City declined 1/2¢, with free buying by mills on the break.

Foreign crop news was construed as decidedly bullish, and Liverpool closed slightly higher, as compared with Friday. Supplies on ocean passage decreased nearly 6,000,000 bu. and are 49,112,000 bu., against 42,176,000 bu. last year. Visible supply increased 1,350,000 bu. and is 12,325,000 bu. against 26,870,000 bu. last year. Export demand was brisk, with sales estimated at around 1,500,000 bu. since Friday.

Fear Damage to Corn.

Reports that corn was being hit by the result of hot and dry weather, received from Oklahoma, was the first damage claim of the season, combined with the strength in wheat, led to short covering in corn and a higher range. Cash interests bought 1,350,000 bu. and is 12,325,000 bu. against 26,870,000 bu. last year. Export demand was brisk, with sales estimated at around 1,500,000 bu. since Friday.

LARD PRICES DROP

Provisions had a weak undertone and values receded with moderate pressure and closed at about the inside for the day, with net losses on lard of 20 to 25¢; short ribs, 10¢; and bellies, 17 1/2¢. Hog values held well, but the trade was rather bearish. Cash demand was fair, with dry salted clear bellies higher and heavy green hams 1/2¢ lower, cured hams 1/4¢ lower, and skinned hams 1/2¢ lower. Deliveries on July contracts were 300,000 lbs. The Liverpool lard was unchanged to bid lower.

Voting Trust Agreement

Upheld by Appeal Court

New York, July 6.—(AP)—Voting trust agreements, entered into by stockholders of banks prior to 1925, were upheld today by the appellate division of the Supreme court. This ruling was contained in a decision reversing the order of the special term which granted an injunction against the Bank of America and others, which prevented the voting of stock by individual defendants as trustees under a voting agreement dated Dec. 31, 1924. The decision held that the banking law governing voting trusts, which became effective in 1925, was not retroactive.

New York, July 6.—(AP)—Heavy realizing sales and sporadic bear selling checked another promising rally in today's stock market, which was featured by the establishment of a new high record for all time at 151 1/4 by the present no par common stock of the General Motors corporation. Final quotations disclosed considerable irregularity. Trading was only moderate in volume, the day's sales aggregating 1,232,609 shares.

Banks called about $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 in loans, incidental to month-end adjustments, but the call money rate held steady at 4 1/2 per cent. The principal business news of the day was a general reduction in automobile tire prices. Foreign news interest centered largely in the further collapse of Belgian francs to a new record low level around 2 1/2 cents, and the beginning of discussions of the new tax and debt proposals by the French chamber of deputies.

General Motors Advances.—There was nothing in the day's news to explain the further advance in General Motors, although Wall Street confidently expects another generous dividend distribution at the directors' meeting this month. The stock closed at 149 1/2, representing a net gain of 3 1/2 points. Most of the other motors showed only small net changes. Mack trucks closing 1/4 higher at 118 1/2, after having touched 120 1/2.

Independent steel shares displayed a strong undertone with buying influenced by the statement of President Campbell of Youngstown Sheet and Tube that the steel business is better than had been hoped for and that indications point to a good fall. Youngstown closed 3 points higher at $2 and Bethlehem, Republic, Jones-Sheffield and Crucible sold a point or so higher. Special strength also developed in U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, which

I. R. T. Up Despite Strike.

Interborough Rapid Transit closed nearly 3 points higher at 47 1/2 despite the strike of some of its employees. Matheson Alkali jumped 6 1/2 points to 85 but Allied Chemical dropped over a point on profit taking. Good buying also was noted in a number of specialties. Burns Bros. issues continued their advance on reports of large current earnings and net gains of 2 points or more were recorded by Continental Can, Dupont and Montana Power. Oils started upward towards the close under the leadership of Pan-American B and Marland. Profit taking sales brought about recedings of a point or more in such issues as Chesapeake and Ohio, New York Central, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Brooklyn Union Gas, Detroit Edison, Standard Milling and Reid Ice Cream.

Foreign exchanges were heavy. Demand sterling ruled 1-16 of a cent lower around 48.15-16 and French francs were again quoted under 270 cents.

THE TREND OF BOND PRICES

The payment on June 15 of $333,000,000 maturing Government obligations without additional financing was a notable feature of the June security market. This is the first time since the Government's quarterly system of financing was introduced in 1919 that the customary quarterly offering of Government obligations was omitted. The retirement of this amount of Government debt exerted a stimulating effect upon the bond market. U. S. bond prices have made a new high record for the post-war period and corporate obligations have advanced likewise.

MONEY AND BUSINESS

A summary of current financial, commercial and industrial conditions of pertinent interest to investors.

GENERAL business conditions continue to be fundamentally sound. The high volume of industrial and trade activity has been maintained. With some recession in the prices of raw materials and continued high efficiency of production, profits are good despite declining prices. This demonstrates the economic stability of manufacturing and merchandising operations.

Total check payments, reflecting the dollar volume of trade, are 8% above the payments of the corresponding period of 1925. Railway car loadings continue to exceed all previous years. Factory employment, after making due allowance for the usual seasonal contraction, is at a comparatively high level; consumption of electric power is 14% above the 1924-1925 average and sales of mail order houses, department and chain stores are distinctly higher than a year ago.

Easy money conditions—indicated by declines in interest rates, by a reduction of the commercial loans of the reporting members of the Federal Reserve system, combined with an increase in the deposits and investments of these banks—show clearly the soundness of the present state of business. The ease in short-time money rates has naturally been reflected in the firming of bond prices.

While the present yields on high-grade bonds are lower than those prevailing during the abnormal period following the war, it should be noted that they are substantially higher than the average for many long periods before 1917. Evidence that a continuance, or even an advance, of present bond prices is likely, is shown by the steady decline of commodity prices and the definite downward trend of interest rates. Both factors have a direct influence on security prices.

Investors, therefore, with funds now available or who desire to rearrange their investment funds for the next two or three years, should take advantage of the opportunities now existing for securing high-grade bonds returning a comparatively liberal income.

Economic Conditions in Germany

Thirty-six joint stock companies announced increases in their capital stock recently, which together with the rise in the value of industrial shares, reflect confidence in the future. Every month since December, 1925, German exports have exceeded imports. Government receipts are exceeding expenditures regularly and reductions in taxes were made in the last revenue bill submitted.

German Dollar Bonds

The marked improvement in German finances and the restoration of favorable economic conditions in Germany are evidenced by the appreciation in market value of representative high-grade German dollar bonds. The German Government's control over the borrowings of German states and municipalities; the restrictions placed upon foreign loans, confining borrowings to those for essential purposes only; the increasing capacity of Germany to finance her own requirements—these factors, among others, will exert a sustaining influence upon German securities.

Southern Ice and Utilities Company, the largest organization of its kind in the Southwest, represents a development extending over a period of forty years. The combined operation of the properties has shown a profit every year.

Central operation and management as a chain organization has made possible standard quality products, wider public service through constant improvement in production and delivery, and numerous economies in operation.

The company engages in all branches of refrigeration service including retail and wholesale distribution of ice, railroad car icing, manufacture and distribution of ice cream and dairy products, and the operation of commercial cold storage warehouses.

Conducting its business along modern and progressive merchandising lines the company has brought to 300 communities in the Southwest a responsible and efficient refrigeration service.

This policy has been reflected in net sales which for the fiscal year 1925 were over 190% above those of 1919, while net earnings during the same period increased 345%, exclusive of earnings from properties recently acquired.

Wide distribution of Southern Ice and Utilities Company's properties, the variety of its refrigeration services, the operating benefits from chain organization, and favorable climatic conditions in the territories served, combine to provide a foundation for steadily increasing sales and stable earning power as well as the building of substantial equities for the company's securities.

Mr. Manufacturer or Jobber, the actual percentages pertaining to failures will change every year; but the underlying principle exists today, tomorrow and for all time to come.

Even if you had no abnormal credit losses last year, or over a period of years—that is no reason for your not safeguarding against the unexpected losses of tomorrow. In fact, the only certain thing about credit accounts is their uncertainty!

No matter what may happen to any of your customers, or when, you are absolutely protected if you carry American Credit Insurance. It cannot help but pay you to investigate this great protective service.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Export demand for wheat at the seaboard was brisk with sales of 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 bu in all positions over the holidays, including 300,000 bu of old crop durum. Germany was said to have been a good buyer, taking wheat for as far ahead as September shipment. Southern Hemisphere offers were light and tended to restrict business as did the scarcity of nearby ocean room at the Gulf. Key sales were estimated at 100,000 to 200,000 bu.

Chicago handlers sold 10,000 bu wheat, 64,000 bu corn, 48,000 bu oats, and 5,000 bu barley to the domestic trade, with charters for 300,000 bu to Montreal. Deliveries of July contracts were 635,000 bu corn, 662,000 bu oats, and 60,000 bu rye. Purchases to arrive were estimated at 130,000 bu wheat and 100,000 bu oats, mainly from Illinois points. Demand for cash wheat was brisk, with the bulk of the receipts here going to mills on the spot. Premiums on spot were not changed to the lower, with new No. 1 hard sold at $1.39 1/2, or 3c over Chicago. No. 2 red was nominally 1/2c over July and No. 2 hard 3/8c over. At Kansas City the basis was 1/2c lower, and at Omaha 3/4c lower, while spring wheats at Minneapolis were 1/2c higher.

Offers of cash corn were fair, with contracts here steady to 1c higher as compared with July and low grades offered 1/2c. No. 2 grades brought 1.24 1/2c, No. 3 1.23 1/2c, No. 4 1.22 1/2c, and No. 5 1.21 1/2c. Outside markets were unchanged to the higher.

Cash oats basis was steady to 1/4c higher as compared with July. No. 2 white bringing 11 1/2c over, and No. 3 white 1 1/2c over the future.

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Tuesday: Wheat, 100 cars; corn, 200 cars; oats, 71 cars; rye, 3 cars; barley, 12 cars. Range of cash grain prices in leading markets follow:

Cattle and hogs met brisk demand following the Monday holiday, the latter selling upward to $15.00, equal to the year's peak, while prime 1,524 lb steers at $10.60 stood highest for that weight since June 10 and 10c above last week's top for heavy steers.

Hog receipts at 35,000 were smallest in some time for the opening commercial day of the week and weakness in evidence at the close of last week vanished early. Prices swung up mostly 10c, with instances of 15c to 20c gain effected in comparing with bargain purchases made in Saturday's erratic trade, mixed and packing grades sharing the upturn. Average price advanced 10c at $13.60, equal to last Friday. Fancy 14c to 15c, 15c average, reached the top, with 200 pounders as high as $14.85, 260 lb butchers up to $14.25 and 415 lb barrows at $13.25. Heavy packers were $11.25 to $11.50, mostly.

A two-day supply of 18,000 cattle seemed comparatively small and further strength developed in the trade, especially in top weighty steers, which sold on par with light and handy weight steers. Medium and heavy steers, lacking high finish, however, were more plentiful and weakened late. In view of an advanced estimate of 15,000 for today, against 10,000 the previous Wednesday, Choice 1,110 to 1,524 lb steers topped, with nearly 150 cattle averaging 767 lbs to 1,317 lbs at $10.50. Bulk of sales were 10c to 15c above the previous Tuesday at $10.60 to $11.25. Butcher stock ruled steady to strong, a fair showing of 724 to 730 lb fancy baby beef heifers bringing $10.25. Canners and cutters were unchanged, bulls strong, stockers and feeders slow and steady. Calves ruled strong to 10c higher.

REALTY MEN PUT UP GOLF BAGS TO CAPTURE SALES

BY AL CHASE.

With the Fourth of July week-end safely in the background, real estate dealers hung up their golf bags and yesterday got back on the job. As a result, Map Superintendent James T. Kilcarr turned over more reports of deals to waiting real estate editors in the county recorder's office early yesterday morning than he's done for weeks. No starting lines, from point of size, but an imposing list in numbers.

The largest deal reported was the sale of the six-story hotel at 711-13 Belmont avenue by Cyril R. Edwards to Morris W. Lieber for a reported price of $252,500, subject to an incumbrance of $197,500. A feature of the hotel is a bungalow on the roof. Another large one was the sale by Herman H. General Tire Doubles its Business in St. Louis in April

Secures 156 New Customers as result of 10 day Advertising Campaign in the Globe-Democrat Exclusively

The General Tire Company doubled its sales in St. Louis in April over April of last year as the result of increased business secured during a 10-day advertising campaign placed in The St. Louis Globe-Democrat exclusively.

156 car owners who had never used General Tires bought Generals as a direct result of the advertising . . . and new customers are still coming in.

Sales averaged 3 tires per customer, and, in addition to the sales of tires for passenger cars, commercial business was substantially increased.

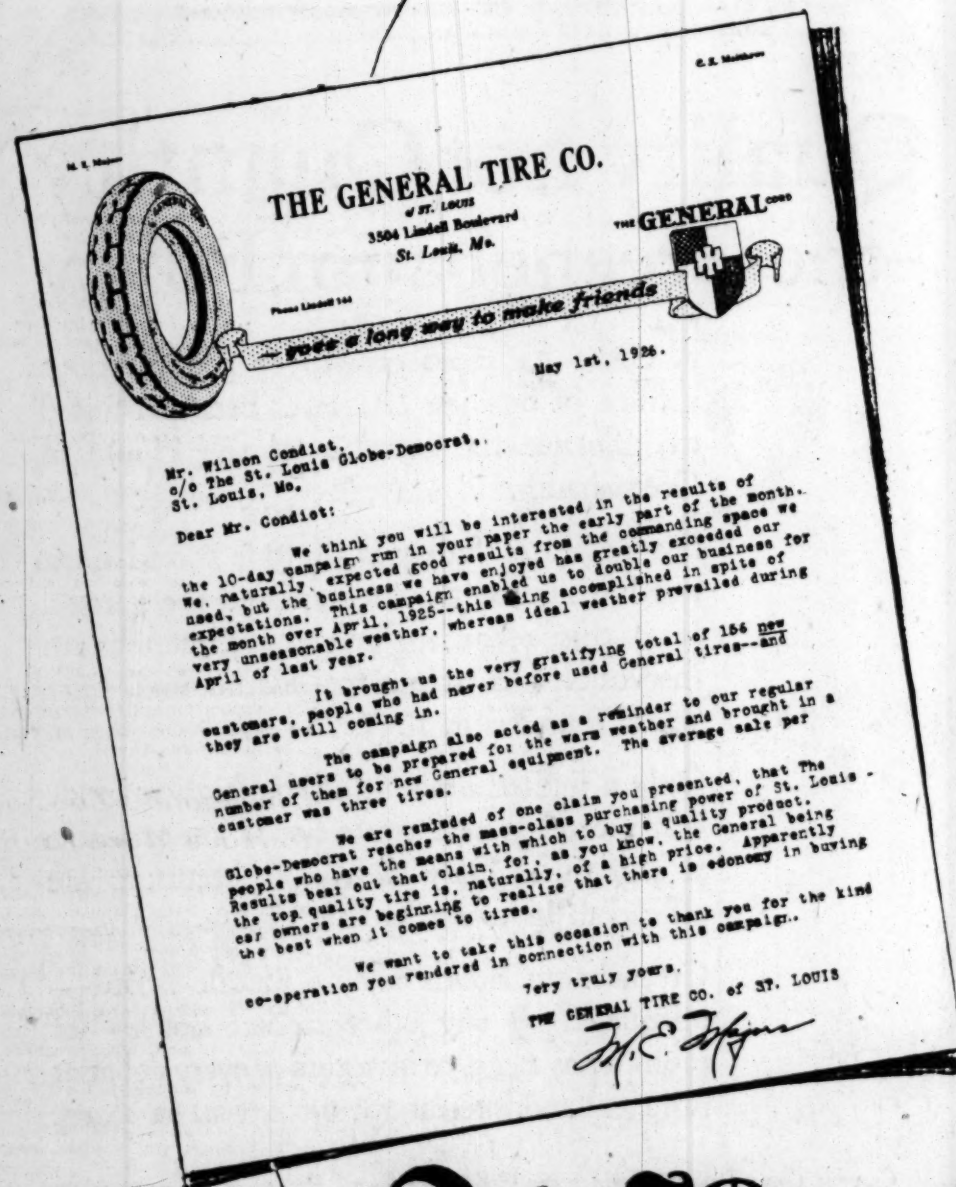

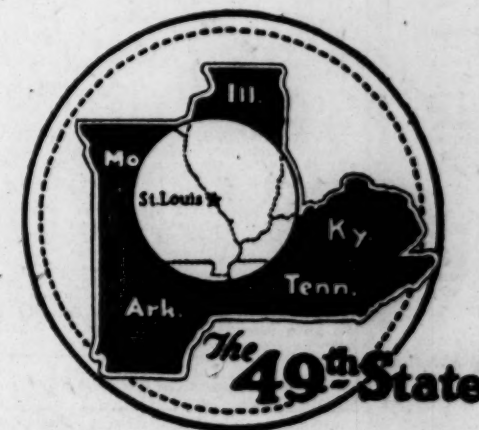

Here is an advertising success which stands out in tire history in St. Louis—accomplished by a single store during the unfavorable, unseasonal weather of a "late" April—with advertising placed exclusively in one newspaper St. Louis' Largest Daily.

The results are all the more significant in view of the fact that the General is a top-quality tire selling at a high price.

In selecting The Globe-Democrat alone The General Tire Company chose the newspaper that reaches more automobile owners than any other St. Louis daily and which is acknowledged to be the logical medium for automotive advertising.

Tires, motor cars, food, shoes, cigars, or whatever your product may be, The Globe-Democrat can help you to build sales economically in St. Louis and The 49th State.

Ask the nearest Globe-Democrat representative for the facts about The 49th State, that great 20-Billion-Dollar Area, radius 150 miles surrounding St. Louis, its Capital. Write for details of the service which our Research Division and the Service and Promotion Department can render, and for the list of 690 national advertisers who found it profitable in 1925 to use The Globe-Democrat exclusively.

Health Seems to Us of Greater Value than Pulchritude

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Which do you think more important with men—beauty or health?" asks Innocent. "I mean, which attracts more?"

Health, because upon it depends cheerfulness of disposition, and because you can't well have beauty without it. I don't think any girl with a merry disposition, a smiling eye, a youthful spirit, vitality, a happy, healthy mind, all of which are characteristics of perfect health, can be unattractive. Physical vitality is a tremendously important feature in the laws of attraction—even more so than perfection of feature.

If you have this blessed quality of health you have the energy to get out and meet men. And that is no small item in attracting them. Then, with it, you have poise and a beautiful lack of self-consciousness that puts the people you meet at perfect ease with you. And if there is one sure way of attracting people to you, men or women, it is this knack of making them feel at home in your presence.

Beauty in itself is not always do. Sometimes it awes and sometimes it makes people feel inferior. Even men admit an inferiority complex in the presence of great beauty. And beauty is inclined to be self-centered unless it is coupled with a happy, healthy mind, which, in turn, can only be present in one who has all the leavening influences of a healthy body.

If I were asking a gift of the gods, I'd make it health. It can see you through more of the situations that confront an average life than beauty. If you protect it, it wears longer than mere physical charm. Sometimes I think that being a beauty is a tragedy. It is to the woman who stakes everything on it. There is a fresh new face every minute and none feels the competition as the woman who was fêted last year or the year before as the reigning queen. This, of course, is getting away from men's preference. Not being a man, I cannot say if I had a beauty and a healthy girl to choose from which one would get my notice. But looking around at wives in general I am inclined to think you do not have to be a prize winner to get one, nor to hold one.

NURSES BY HOUR NOW AVAILABLE UNDER NEW PLAN

Nursing service by the hour by graduate nurses has been made available for patients in their homes through the Chicago Nurses' Club and Registry, it was announced yesterday. Designed for those cases where a full time nurse is not required, this service will provide special nursing care for a short period each day at a minimum expense.

Backed by the Central Council for Nursing Education and the First District of the Illinois State Association of Graduate Nurses, the hourly nursing service has been endorsed by Dr. Isaac A. Abbott, president of the Chicago Medical Society; Dr. Joseph L. Baer, secretary of the medical board of Michael Reese hospital; Dr. J. Gordon Wilson, president of the medical board of Wesley hospital and others.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

This little story about an Iowa farmer's experience with cutworms ought to be out and pasted on the corn crib door on every farm in the corn belt. Crop specialists at the Iowa station tell John Alexander, a farmer near New Virginia, Ia., slaughtered the cutworms that were about to devour a forty acre field of corn this spring.

Alexander had planted corn in a field where timothy had been grown last season. About the time the corn was up and getting a good start great armies of cutworms began their destructive work, cutting the plants off near the surface of the ground. Mr. Alexander knew he was up against a tough proposition if he tackled the pests with hand methods, so he got out his endgame seeders and sowed the hopper with a tempting poison bran mash.

He covered the entire forty acre field with the material was only 4½ cents an acre. The following compound made enough to cover 1½ acres: Bran, 20 pounds; Paris green, 1 pound; molasses, 2 quarts, and enough water to make a crumbly mixture.

With this simple inexpensive treatment Mr. Alexander saved his crop. He says he was unable to find any other worm damage in the treated field, while in neighboring fields, replanting was necessary.

Asks for Rugs.

"A group of boys who have organized a club are trying to furnish their clubrooms. They are collecting old rugs and are having them made into new ones. They are asking for your help. If you can spare a rug, please send it to them. They are very grateful for your help."

Have you the rugs these boys need? Let me know and I'll have them call for them.

There are two safe ways to remove a corn—

(1) go to a good chiropodist and let him pare it.

(2) get a package of Blue-jay at the drug store and remove the corn at home.

There are other ways. But many are dangerous. Paring your own corns is especially so, since a slip of the blade may mean an ugly infection.

But Blue-jay is absolutely safe, as well as sure. A cool and downy pad, soft as velvet, fits over the corn, relieves the pressure and pain at once. Soon the corn goes away unusually stubborn. But even the most obstinate corn seldom needs more than a second plaster.

Blue-jay has been standard for over 26 years. Such success tells its own story. At all drug stores.

THE SAFE AND GENTLE WAY TO END A CORN

For Town or Country By Corinne Lowe

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Which do you think more important with men—beauty or health?" asks Innocent. "I mean, which attracts more?"

Health, because upon it depends cheerfulness of disposition, and because you can't well have beauty without it. I don't think any girl with a merry disposition, a smiling eye, a youthful spirit, vitality, a happy, healthy mind, all of which are characteristics of perfect health, can be unattractive. Physical vitality is a tremendously important feature in the laws of attraction—even more so than perfection of feature.

If you have this blessed quality of health you have the energy to get out and meet men. And that is no small item in attracting them. Then, with it, you have poise and a beautiful lack of self-consciousness that puts the people you meet at perfect ease with you. And if there is one sure way of attracting people to you, men or women, it is this knack of making them feel at home in your presence.

Beauty in itself is not always do. Sometimes it awes and sometimes it makes people feel inferior. Even men admit an inferiority complex in the presence of great beauty. And beauty is inclined to be self-centered unless it is coupled with a happy, healthy mind, which, in turn, can only be present in one who has all the leavening influences of a healthy body.

FATHER OF VET IS PRESENTED MEDAL AFTER LONG HUNT

Given Personally by Mr. Duncan

Domenick Zerillo, a Chicago youth of Italian parentage, in 1917 enlisted in the 33d division, A. E. F., and was killed by a German machine gun in front of Forges. He was posthumously awarded a medal of honor.

A year ago, a local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was organized and named after the dead veteran. One of its first acts was to vote a gold medal to his parents, but they could not be found.

After months of searching, the aged father was traced to the town of Terrasine, Italy, to which he returned after the war. The emblem was sent to the mayor of Terrasine by Col. Nicholas Kornold, head of the post. Yesterday Col. Kornold received a letter from the old man, telling of the presentation.

BRITONS' HEALTH BETTER; OUTINGS GET THE CREDIT

(Copyright, 1926, by The New York Times.)

LONDON, July 6.—The health of Great Britain is growing steadily better, according to Sir George Newman, chief medical officer of the ministry of health.

The week-end habit of enjoyment of seaside and sea bathing, cheap excursions, extended travel on the annual holidays, and what is called the emancipation of women are having a more powerful effect on the personal and public health, he said.

Other things which Sir George credits with improving public health are increasing sobriety, more lavatories, more windmills, more tooth brushes and great simplicity in dress.

Costs Only 3 Cents to Remove Wrinkles

Better than massage for removing wrinkles and lines, far less expensive and bothersome, is a simple Tarkroot mixture which any woman can prepare and apply in a jiffy. Almost immediate relief is given. The face is smooth and firm as a schoolgirl's. Seems almost too good to be true, but the actual experience quickly removes all doubt.

All one need do is procure an original package of Tarkroot from the druggist, mix a spoonful with a spoonful of lemon juice and apply with the fingers. This, of course, is perfectly harmless. It is easily washed off, leaving the face wonderfully refreshed and rejuvenated, with a healthy glow. And the cost of such application is less than three cents!

Shiny nose?

Here is a chance to prove for yourself that you CAN get rid of that oily, shiny nose which ruins so many complexions.

A wonderful new cream called Vau does it! It is in the morning, powder over it for four hours, your nose will keep just that dull, velvety look you want to have. One girl says: "I have tried nearly every cream on the market, but Vau is the first one that really does get rid of shiny nose. The longer I use it the less I have to powder. My skin seems to get smoother every day, and blackheads have disappeared."

Try it for yourself. Go to any drug or department store and get a tube of Vau. Use it for one week as directed. Then, if you are not satisfied, return it to the store and I'll refund your money and postage.

Be free at last from that worst of all skin blemishes—an oily, shiny nose! Jane Mott, 77 Wrigley Building North, Chicago.
